Angered Trucker Kills 2 Inlaws, Girl

Statewide Hunt On For Slayer Packing Pistol

Leavittsburg Man, 37, Enraged After Argument With Frightened Wife

WARREN (AP) — A 37-year-old truck driver, going berserk after a quarrel with his wife, last night shot and killed his two sisters-in-law and a teenage girl he didn't know.

Another man was wounded, but escaped, as the truck driver sped over a rural area here in an automobile to gun down his victims in three separate locations.

The body of the girl, kidnapped where she was sitting with two boys in a parked car, was found today in a ditch along a lonely road northwest of here.

A manhunt for the trucker, Alfred Wilson of nearby Leavittsburg, centered in an area near Windham, about 15 miles west of here, after Wilson's 1949 automobile was found abandoned along a county road.

Deputies said they found a luger holster, an empty bullet clip and a scribbled note on the car seat.

The note, unsigned, said: "Wanted to get you, Juanita (Wilson's wife). Sorry for what I have done. Say goodbye to the kids. Hope to meet you in the other world."

ALL OVER OHIO and in neighboring states, authorities were alerted to be on the lookout for Wilson.

Dep. Sheriff Harry Crozier identified Wilson and said he was armed with a pistol.

Crozier said Wilson went berserk after driving to the home of a sister-in-law, Mrs. Geraldine Brown, 30, of Leavittsburg, to see his wife who was staying there.

Wilson's wife saw him coming, picked up the house and then locked herself and her children in the bathroom, Crozier said.

But the sister-in-law walked into the living room from a bedroom and was shot and killed by Wilson, who fired through a window in the front door.

Federal Aides Keep Eye On Steel Parley

WASHINGTON (AP) — Government officials today privately expressed increasing concern over the possibility of a steel strike but, for the time being, they intended to keep out of the bargaining.

However, it was reported that if the industry and Steelworkers Union still are stuck in their present stalemate by the middle of next week the government may take a new look at the advisability of intervening.

A strike is feared by administration officials not only because it would upset the economy but also because it would present delicate labor problems for decision in a campaign year.

Should a walkout come, President Eisenhower presumably would have to consider invoking the national emergency provisions of the Taft-Hartley law. This could lead to an 80-day court injunction against continuing the walkout and possibly postpone a showdown until elections.

Officials see no likelihood that Eisenhower will invoke the T-H Act before the expiration of the present steel contract June 30.

The United Steelworkers Union's contract expires at that time, and the union sent notices to its locals yesterday to prepare for a strike on that date if no agreement is reached.

District Mailmen Win Safety Honor

No Accidents Listed Past Year; 3 Circleville Drivers Get Awards

Circleville Postmaster Charles Walters announced today this city's first class postoffice is the only one in the Ohio-Indiana-Kentucky postal district to go through the past year without a traffic accident.

As a result, three well-known postal drivers here have been given high recognition.

Walters' statement was made in regard to a second "Special Citation for Contributions to Highway Safety" in 1955, which will be awarded to the United States Post Office Department by the National Safety Council.

The postmaster praised the three local drivers, who received medals from the Post Office Department for their part in making the highway safety program successful.

RURAL carriers, Warren Baker, with 34 years service of accident-free driving and Bill Betts, with 15 years of safe driving, received special recognition medals.

Willis Green was presented a similar citation for 10 years of driving without an accident.

Walters said he feels the fine traffic record of the local office for the past year has been due, in part, to the driver-training program in effect at the Circleville office.

Each month, all drivers receive one hour of training to stress basic driving rules, safety measures and care of vehicle equipment.

At Washington, D. C., Postmaster General Arthur Summerfield accepted the National Safety Council's citation "on behalf of thousands of postal people who have led and stimulated local safety programs for postal vehicles over the nation."

"The Post Office Department a few years ago had one of the worst traffic accident records in the entire federal government," Summerfield recalled, in commenting on the award. "In 1953, the Department initiated its first intensive safety program, which included safe driving instructions, as well as driver examination and physical reaction tests."

As part of this program, the department's first Safety and Health Division in the Bureau of Personnel was activated and staffed with experts in industrial safety, health, motor vehicle and traffic safety.

"THIS NATIONAL Safety Council Citation for 1955—the second consecutive annual award of this type to be received by the Post Office Department as a result of its new Safety Program—symbolizes a major achievement in the saving of lives and property."

Typical of the Post Office Department's safety accomplishments in 1955, accidents involving postal vehicles nationwide were reduced from 13 to 4 per 100,000 miles driven in metropolitan areas, Summerfield noted.

"The enthusiasm with which all postal people have accepted the Safe Driving program," Summerfield added, "has been a primary factor in this second special traffic safety citation being awarded to the Postal Service."

Even Sen. Ellender (D-La.), who is opposing both Democratic and Republican moves to boost air funds, said "Secretary Wilson talks too much."

After the "phony" remark came out, Wilson apparently felt it may have been too strong. "Well, maybe I shouldn't have said it," he remarked.

However, he added he "would just like to see the people who vote for the expenditure, vote for the taxes to produce the money to pay for it, the same people, stand up and be counted."

In Washington, some 30 miles to the northeast, the Senate yesterday took up a defense money bill totaling $34.9 billion. Debate on the measure was suspended today to allow consideration of a bill to extend the Defense Production Act. Voting on the defense bill is expected next week.

WILSON'S "phony" comment was aimed at a Senate Appropriations Committee recommendation to add $1.1 billion to President Eisenhower's budget requests for more warplanes, airmen and bases. Asked about a compromise proposal by Sen. Bridges (R-NH) to limit the increase to $500 million, Wilson said: "I look at it the same way."

$35.1 Million Due Ohio For Roads

WASHINGTON (AP) — The compromise highway construction bill expected to be sent to President Eisenhower next week will make $35.1 million in federal funds available to Ohio June 30.

This includes $7.4 million for interstate highways, to be distributed on a 90-10 matching basis, and for other highway construction (all on a 50-50 matching basis) $11 million for primary roads, $6.7 million for secondary and $10 million for urban.

The apportionments for fiscal 1957, 1958 and 1959, listed in that order, for Ohio: Interstate $50,200,000, 72,800,000 and 85,600,000; 2,000,000, 8,400,000; urban $11,800,000.

Funeral services will be held here at 2 p. m. Monday.

Veteran Wilmington Printer Is Dead

WILMINGTON — A. M. Cope land, mechanical superintendent of the Wilmington News-Journal, was found dead in his bed here this morning. He was 51.

The veteran printer had been with the newspaper publishing company for 39 years.

He is survived by his wife, two sons, five grandchildren, his mother, two sisters and two half-sisters.

Wilson Labels Air Force Fund Hike 'Phoney'

Doubt Seen Defense Chief Would Use Cash If Congress Votes It

QUANTICO, Va. (AP) — Secretary of Defense Wilson, tagging as "phony" Senate efforts to increase Air Force funds, has left open the question of whether he would use the extra money if it is voted.

Wilson delivered his judgment of the money-boosting proposals last night at this Marine Corps base where many of the nation's top military officials are gathered for the fourth annual "Secretaries' Conference."

Democratic senators quickly lambasted Wilson for his "phony" remark.

Sen. Jackson (D-Wash.), a frequent critic of administration defense policies, said the secretary is a "very busy man—busy half the time putting his foot in his mouth, and busy the other half of the time trying to get it out again."

Even Sen. Ellender (D-La.), who is opposing both Democratic and Republican moves to boost air funds, said "Secretary Wilson talks too much."

After the "phony" remark came out, Wilson apparently felt it may have been too strong. "Well, maybe I shouldn't have said it," he remarked.

However, he added he "would just like to see the people who vote for the expenditure, vote for the taxes to produce the money to pay for it, the same people, stand up and be counted."

Now His Backyard Is Gaping Cavern

ROSSVILLE, Ga. (AP) — A local woman saw a neighbor's backyard sink yesterday until it became a gaping cavern.

"I looked up and there was a lot of dust," said Mrs. A. R. Templeton. "The bushes were going down. I thought I was going crazy."

Willie Morrison's neat, trim backyard has become a huge hole about 25 feet in diameter and that many feet deep. At the bottom can be seen an underground cave filled with water.

Constable Lefty Denton said there may be an underground lake in the area, once the site of a limestone mining operation.

British Fine Greek Town $98,000

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP) — British authorities imposed a collective fine of $98,000 on the Greek Cypriot community of Limassol today.

Since the beginning of this year there have been six assassinations in the town, 10 persons have been wounded in attempted assassinations and there have been 70 bomb incidents.

"The perpetrators of some of the more serious crimes escaped through the failure of Greek Cypriot onlookers to assist in their capture," the British said.

Firing Heard

JERUSALEM (AP) — An Israeli army spokesman said today Egyptian machinegunners broke the weeklong lull in the Gaza Strip last night. He said there were no casualties.

WORKMEN use an acetylene torch to free an auto that was pierced by a length of loose steel curbing in Wilkesburg, Pa. The metal strip, sticking out into the roadway, penetrated the bottom of the auto and went up through the roof. Mrs. Edna Clohery, a passenger, suffered a deep gash in her thigh.

'Radio Signal' From Venus Heard Again

COLUMBUS (AP) — New "radio signals which presumably originate on Venus" were reported today by an Ohio State University radio astronomer.

The findings were made by Dr. John D. Kraus, director of the university's radio observatory. Earlier this month, Dr. Kraus reported radio signals resembling static from terrestrial thunderstorms were received from the planet Venus, sometimes referred to as earth's "twin."

The astronomer said the new signals, of a distinctly different type, resemble radio telegraphy in many ways.

"Whatever phenomenon is responsible for the signals must be of rather complex type," Dr. Kraus said.

This type of radio remission has "many of the characteristics of signals from a terrestrial radio telegraph transmitting station," he said.

Sufficiently numerous and varied observations of the signals have been made to make it appear very likely that they do come from Venus, Dr. Kraus added.

U. S. Reds OK'd For Social Security Aid

WASHINGTON (AP) — A referee of the Social Security Administration ruled today that employment by the Communist party in the United States is covered under the Social Security Act.

Today's decision by Referee Peter J. Hoegen is subject to possible review by the appeals council of the Welfare Department.

Hoegen made the ruling in cases involving seven Communist party employees whose eligibility for social security benefits has been under review.

The seven involved in the appeals heard in New York were: William Z. Foster, national chairman of the Communist party; Charles A. Dirba; Alfred Wagenknecht; Mrs. Saide V. Amter, widow of a former employee of the party; Jacob Mindel and his wife Rebecca; and Alex Bittelman.

In his decision, Hoegen said the sole question in determining social security coverage in those cases was whether an actual employee-employer relationship existed between the wage earners involved and the Soviet Union.

He concluded the evidence before him was insufficient to determine "whether the Communist Party, U. S. A., is a creature or instrumentality of the Soviet Union, the Russian Communist party, or the Communist International, although it is clear that it is dominated by alien elements abroad, and that it is conspiratorial in character."

Capitol Building May Be Searched

Senator's Office Given Check For Wiretap Gear; He's Insulted

WASHINGTON (AP) — An electronic search of the entire Capitol for wiretapping and secret recording equipment became a possibility today in the wake of a security inspection of one senator's office.

The office to which Defense Department agents went uninvited was part of the suite of Sen. Lehman (D-NY). It adjoins a hearing room in which other senators have been receiving secret military information.

The agents found nothing wrong. But their search, aided by Capitol police, touched off a Senate furor yesterday that pushed aside debate on a $35 billion defense appropriation bill.

Lehman, who protested what he called "careless snooping," was promised apologies from the Defense Department, Sen. Symington's (D-Mo) Special Armed Services subcommittee occupying the room adjoining his office, and, through Majority Leader Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex), the entire Senate.

Sen. Douglas (D-Ill) called on the Senate to hire "experts in electronic devices" to check whether snoopers are tapping telephones of senators or planting microphones in hearing rooms.

Sen. Green (D-RI), chairman of the Senate Rules Committee which would pass first on any such investigation, was out of the city. But committee attaches started looking into the matter.

Johnson said that the incident was "outrageous" and "typical bureaucratic stupidity," that he viewed it with "utter horror" and that he had asked the Capitol police force for a report on their part in the affair.

Sen. Capehart (R-Ind) called the affair "a lot of political baloney."

Symington called a quick meeting of his group after Lehman protested the "methods used" in the unusual security check. Testimony developed that it was "routine" for Defense Department security agents to check committee rooms and adjacent areas to make certain no secret listening devices are in use.

But Lehman declared it was "an insult to the Senate," and complained that no one ever asked permission to check in his office.

"I not only would have given my permission," he said, "but I would have cooperated with the officers."

Marilyn Says Marriage Due By July 13

NEW YORK (AP) — Marilyn Monroe and Arthur Miller kept their wedding date a secret today. But they let the world know it would be "before July 13."

The oft-rumored romance between the blonde movie star and the Pulitzer Prize-winning dramatist became official yesterday.

He announced it to reporters during a brief recess in his testimony before the House Committee on Un-American Activities.

Marilyn, vacationing in New York, confirmed the announcement in a press statement.

Both said the wedding will be in either New York City or Roxbury, Conn., where Miller has a nine-room house on a 26-acre plot.

The blue-eyed Miss Monroe had "no comment" when asked about Miller's appearance before the committee.

But on the subjects of love and life, she provided a variety of candidly wide-eyed, innocent answers that have become a Monroe trademark in the movie industry.

Was she planning to have any children?—"I'm not married yet."

What quality about Miller attracted her?—"Everything."

It will be her third marriage, his second.

Egyptian Election Set For Saturday

CAIRO (AP) — Egyptians will go to the polls Saturday for the first time in six years. They will elect a president and ratify a new constitution on the same day.

The election is supposed to usher in a new era of constitutional life after four years of military dictatorship headed by Col. Gamal Abdel Nasser.

Liquor Chief Ready To Clean Out Pinballs

Bryant Says Gadgets In Same Category As Old Slot Machines

COLUMBUS (AP) — A combination of two recent court decisions has given Ohio Liquor Director William C. Bryant most of the weapons he seeks to wage a war of extermination against pinball machines in taverns.

"The bell has sounded," says Bryant. "Now it's time for school to take up. Pinball machines are now in the same legal category as slot machines and under that law a person is subject to a felony prosecution if he simply has the handle of a slot machine in his attic."

Both Gov. Frank J. Lausche and Atty. Gen. C. William O'Neill hailed the double-barreled blast from the courts at pinball.

But until and unless a temporary injunction which bars liquor officials from making any moves against gambling devices is dissolved, the whole burden of enforcing court decisions against pinball machines rests with local authorities.

The first decision came from the Ohio Supreme Court a couple of weeks ago. It held pinball machines which offer free games for high scores are gambling devices under the anti-slot machine law.

THEN THE SECOND District Court of Appeals followed up that decision this week by directing the Franklin County common pleas court to take a second look at its order which bars the State Liquor Board from suspending the permit of a tavern in which a pinball machine was found.

The appellate court cited the Supreme Court's decision and sent the permit-suspension case back to common pleas court for further action. The appellate court disagreed with the order issued by Common Pleas Judge Ralph J. Bartlett and held that:

1. The Board of Liquor Control has authority to prohibit gambling on the premises of liquor permit holders and has the right to suspend or revoke permits for violations of the no-gambling rule.

2. The pinball machine "and similarly constructed and operated mechanisms" is "a mechanical device within the meaning and contemplation of section 2915.16 of the Revised Code of Ohio (the anti-slots law), the use of which upon a permit premises is a violation" of the board's anti-gambling rule.

3. A pinball machine is a gambling device within the meaning of the board's no-gambling rule. Only the measure of the common pleas court order prohibiting liquor agents from confiscating pinball machines found in taverns remains as a roadblock, Bryant says, adding:

"Then we will be in a position to proceed."

Italy Ups Budget

ROME (AP) — Italy's Chamber of Deputies last night approved a record postwar defense budget of over $1 billion, an increase of $84 million over last year.

New Facilities Planned For Coating 'Mylar'

$1,000,000 Project Will Need About 150 Construction Men

Facilities for coating "Mylar" polyester film to permit wider application in packaging and industrial fields will be installed at the DuPont Company's Circleville plant, it was announced today by Emory F. Ridlon, plant manager.

Ridlon said the capacity of the plant will remain the same, but two new buildings will be constructed for the additional operations. Both the new structures will be just north of the present main plant, located a few miles south of Circleville.

One of the new units will be a coating tower.

Construction is to start in September, and the coating tower is to be ready for operation late next Summer. Until then, coated "Mylar" will be available only in experimental quantities for developmental purposes.

IT IS expected that 150 construction employees will be employed at the peak of construction activity. Total cost of the project will exceed $1,000,000.

Ridlon said the additional facilities will not mean any material expansion of the plant's operating force. "We may add a few," he explained.

One of the advantages to be gained from coating is to make "Mylar" heat-sealable on standard packaging machinery. In addition to heat-sealability, improved impermeability to moisture can be imparted by coating. At present, uncoated "Mylar" can be sealed by using a combination of heat and a solvent, benzyl alcohol, with minor modifications of standard packaging machines. It also can be sealed with adhesives.

"Mylar" has an unusual combination of properties which recommend it for heavy duty packaging applications where unusual protection is needed, highly durable bags, and bundling and overwrapping.

The film has high tensile and burst strength, durability, dimensional stability, good impermeability to gases, resistance to degradation, and brilliant clarity. It retains its properties at both high and low temperatures.

The present DuPont plant already represents an investment of more than $10 million.

"POTATO CHIP FOUND IN FAT MAN'S HIP POCKET"

Dieting is now the nation's fifth most popular hobby. It comes right between Canasta and Gin and Tonic (with a twist of lime). Of course being overweight by a mere forty or fifty pounds isn't so terrible if you're already married, but in case you want to throw a little less shade, here is the latest Schweitzer-Kitzinger Scientific Weight Control Diet. Ready? Okay. For breakfast you have one glass of water. Not ordinary water—skimmed water. For lunch you are allowed to splurge a little. You can have a heaping glass of water. And for dinner you have artificial respiration. The best thing about this diet is that if you stay on it for two weeks and don't lose any weight, it won't matter because you'll never know about it.

where Emmitt Dennison, 42, of Warren, was driving with a 10-year-old son of Wilson.

The deputy said Wilson forced Dennison's car off the road, shot him in the upper forearm and then started to beat him when the injured man struggled into a field. Dennison told officers he finally managed to escape.

The boy fled on foot and was found later, unharmed.

Dennison described himself as a friend of the Wilson family.

Wilson's next stop was at the home of another sister-in-law, Mrs. Hazel Botts, 33, killed by two bullets fired through the door of her home in nearby Cortland.

TWO BOYS, Arthur Johnson and Thomas Heidelberg, both 17, told the details of the girl being kidnapped from the parked car.

They said they were sitting in the car with Nancy Worthington, 16, of Leavittsburg, when another car pulled up and a man got out.

They said the man drew his gun, forced them to walk down the road and then forced the girl into his car and sped off.

Today, deputies searching the area found the body of Miss Worthington in a ditch near Windham, several miles away.

Another deputy sheriff, Joseph Murphy, said today Wilson was released on $300 bond last June 19 after his wife had signed an assault and battery complaint against him.

Murphy quoted Wilson as saying at the time of his release, "This is the last time they'll get me alive."

Deputies said Wilson was driving a 1949 Chevrolet sedan with a cream colored top and a dark blue body. The car was equipped with twin fog lights and two spotlights, and had Cadillac-type fins on the rear fenders.

Wilson's wife, Juanita, was taken to county jail for protection while her husband was at large.

City Aides Oppose Small Pay Hike

CANTON, Pa.—Union leaders oppose a proposed 4 per cent pay boost for most city workers.

City council gave preliminary approval to the 4 per cent hike to 300 workers. They also voted a 10.5 per cent increase for firemen and policemen, whose base pay would be $4,500 a year.

Leaders of the union asked members of the personnel committee to meet with them today to discuss the wage situation.

Three $1,000 scholarship awards were announced for Pickaway County students late Thursday by George D. McDowell, superintendent of county schools.

Applications for state scholarships in elementary teacher education have been granted to the following:

Doris Jane Haughn of Scioto Township School, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Haughn of Ashville Route 2.

Jacqueline Ann Beach of Scioto Township School, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Beach, also of Ashville Route 2.

Lowell Gordon Anderson of Salt Creek Township School, a son of

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Anderson of Kingston Route 1.

UNDER TERMS of the scholarship privilege, each of the three will be allowed to select, from a list of approved schools, the college where he or she wants to study for a teaching career. Each student will receive $500 a year for two years, the only stipulation being that class-work standards be maintained.

A cadet teacher certificate will be awarded at the end of the two-year course. Then, if the student teaches for two years, notes of the scholarship will be cancelled. Cancellation will be at the rate of $500 in notes for each year of teaching after completion of the course.

Award of the scholarships has been approved by the State Department of Education.

McDowell explained that the winning students were picked, not only on a basis of high scholastic ability, but also because of all-around qualifications. He said:

"All three of the winners are certainly to be congratulated and have reason to be proud. Their work is sure to inspire others toward the same goal in the future."

McDowell headed the Pickaway County Elementary Teacher Education Scholarship Committee which made the local selections. Other members of the committee were: J. Wray Henry, principal of Circleville High School; Judson Lanman, superintendent at Williamsport, and Mrs. Austin Dowden of Wayne Township, a Circleville teacher.

Lions All Set For Sale Of Light Bulbs

A new campaign, geared to tie in with its well known accomplishments in the field of saving eyesight, will be launched here next Monday and Tuesday by the Circleville Lions Club.

Members of the club will go from house-to-house in the evening offering General Electric light bulbs for sale, a sackful of 60, 75 and 100-watt bulbs for two dollars. Lions International has long conducted such a drive on a national scale, but the local club will join the campaign for the first time this year.

Club leaders here hope to make it an annual effort also. Milton Griest, president of the Circleville Lions, will be in charge of the campaign, which carries the slogan: "Buy Light to Save Sight!"

Residents of the district are urged to be on the lookout for the local Lions when they start their two-day drive at 6:30 p. m.—next Monday and Tuesday evenings.

Ohio Woman Sets 2 Fires In Airliner

CHARLOTTE, N. C. — The mother of a woman who set two small fires aboard a big airliner planned today to come to Charlotte to get her daughter out of jail. Authorities decided they would make no charges.

Charlotte Police Chief Frank M. Littlejohn said Evelyn Mills, 36, of Cleveland admitted setting the harmless fires on an Eastern Air Lines Super Constellation. The plane made an unscheduled landing here yesterday on its Cleveland-Miami flight to discharge Miss Mills. She was jailed for mental examination.

Miss Mills was on her way to visit relatives in Miami. Shortly after the plane took off, Stewardess Helen Rosenthal of New Douglas, Ill., smelled smoke.

"We all looked but could find nothing," she said. About two hours later, over Charlotte, the crew smelled smoke again.

"I went forward and found a pillow beneath this woman's seat was smoldering," Miss Rosenthal said. Later she discovered paper tissues burning in a dispenser in the women's rest room. Co-pilot J. D. Willoughby put out that fire with an extinguisher.

Willoughby said Miss Mills readily admitted setting the fires, adding "I want to get off."

Curiosity Catches Culprit In Grocery

TACOMA, Wash. — Curiosity caught the culprit.

Deputy Prosecutor Ralph Milne said George Emery Morissette, 42, was apprehended when he returned to a grocery store he had robbed previously and bought a package of coughdrops. He was curious about whether the proprietor would recognize him. He did.

"First Tomato" Tie
Be at ease your "first-tomato" growers! Eat your tomatoes and be satisfied with a tie. So many local residents picked the same day to phone The Herald and claim the "first tomato" that this year's unofficial contest is hereby declared no game.

Columbus Man Jailed, Fined Total Of $200

Found guilty in Circleville municipal court of drunk driving and two other accusations, a Columbus motorist was fined a total of $200 and costs today.

The defendant, Robert Collins, 29, was also given the mandatory three-day jail term and a one-year driver's license suspension. Those two penalties, in addition to a fine of $150 and costs, were handed down by Judge Sterling M. Lamb on the drunk driving accusation.

In addition, Collins was fined $25 and costs for failure to keep assured clear distance. And another $25 and costs for failure to have a valid operator's license.

Collins was arrested by State Patrolman Jim Cooper.

ANOTHER motorist who appeared in city court, Alvin D. Lasky, 19, of Sciotoville, O., was fined $10 and costs for crossing a yellow line.

He was arrested by Pickaway County Deputy Sheriff Carl White.

East-Central Ohio Socked By Cloudburst, Flash Flood

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A cloudburst and flash flood hit parts of east-central Ohio last night. Flood waters up to five feet deep swirled into several communities. Damage was expected to top the $100,000 mark.

One of the hardest-hit communities was Pickerington, a village of fewer than 500 in northern Fairfield County. Between 3½ and 4 inches of rain poured on the village in less than an hour, Pickerington's weather observer, Carlton S. Good, reported.

The entire center of the village which lies in a gorge was damaged. The storm was accompanied by vicious wind and hail. Water flowed five feet over the roadway of the Sycamore Creek bridge at the west side of the village. Normally the stream flows 15 feet below the roadway.

A Grange hall was heavily damaged. Water ran more than four feet deep through the Methodist church.

Licking County and eastern Franklin County were hit almost as heavily. In Licking several motorists were stranded on the roofs of their cars when the flash flood reached a depth of four feet on some highways. Boats were used to bring some motorists out of high-water areas.

A BRIDGE on the Albany-Reynoldsburg road over Black Lick Creek sank four feet at one end, the State Highway Patrol said.

Death of one man was linked to the storms. The patrol said Hugh Patton, 75, of near Pataskala, died from a heart attack. His body was found in a puddle near his home early today four miles east of Reynoldsburg.

Seven highways were closed temporarily. The patrol said high winds in the northern part of Fairfield County knocked down trees and blocked Ohio 256 east of Pickerington.

Other highways closed temporarily were Ohio 661, Ohio 37, and Ohio 161, all in the Granville area, Ohio 79 between Newark and Hebron, Ohio 16 between Columbus and Newark and U.S. 40 between Columbus and Reynoldsburg. All were reopened today.

Four feet of water at one time was reported on Ohio 661 and as much as two feet in numerous places on Ohio 16.

Mrs. Ella Hennis of Reynoldsburg went to her basement at the height of a cloudburst. Water was coming in and she wanted to turn off the gas water heater.

The lights went out. Mrs. Hennis scrambled for the basement door, but she couldn't open it against the force of the rapidly rising water. She found a stove in the darkness and climbed aboard. Then she screamed.

When firemen arrived, Mrs. Hennis was in water up to her armpits. Firemen ripped open a cold-air shaft and pulled her through it to safety.

Patience Is "Fair"
The condition of Miss Mildred Heffner of Circleville, seriously injured in an accident June 9, at the corner of Franklin and Pickaway streets, was reported "fairly good" today at Grant Hospital in Columbus.

Ohio Accused Of Violating Civil Rights

Alabama Judge Asks Probe Of Negro Family Sent South 'Forcibly'

LIVINGSTON, Ala. — Civil rights of eight penniless Negro children and a 40-year-old mother were violated when they were "forcibly sent" south from Ohio, says an Alabama judge.

Probate Judge Wilbur Dearman yesterday called for a federal and state investigation of the ruling that sent Mrs. Martha Winston, seven children and a grandchild back to Alabama earlier this month over her protests.

Dearman said after a custody hearing that the facts showed the mother and children were legal residents of Ohio, which should have entitled them to aid there.

Ruling that the mother and children are Ohio citizens, the Sumter County judge said he has no jurisdiction in the case. Meanwhile all are living with the oldest married daughter of Mrs. Winston in Coatspa, Ala.

Mrs. Winston, who had been separated from her husband for five years, went to Cleveland four years ago. She brought the children there last October but couldn't support them.

THE CASE was brought before Cleveland Juvenile Court Judge Albert A. Woldman on a charge that Mrs. Winston was neglecting her children under 16 by keeping them out of school.

The Negro mother said she brought the children to Ohio because she couldn't support them in the South. She also said she "didn't want them to grow up in the South."

Woldman ordered the family placed on a train with instructions to return to Livingston. He ruled that since the children had not lived in Ohio a year they were not eligible for welfare aid.

In Cleveland, Woldman said that he had been told the family received emergency relief for the first three months after it moved to Cleveland and that

Benson, Keef Debate New Farm Program

ELSDORA, Iowa — Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Benson, sharing the speakers' platform here today with Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn.) said the Eisenhower administration is not running the farm program with a "political applause meter."

Kefauver, a candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination, contended Republicans are bungling the new farm program by administering it in a "timid and reluctant manner."

He estimated farmers would get nearly $2 billion more income this year if the new farm plan was properly administered.

"We have measured our farm policies on the basis of what is good for the farmer and the nation, not on the political applause meter," Secretary Benson said.

Benson said administration policies have brought rising farm prices, expanding markets and reduced surpluses "with emphasis upon freedom for farmers, rather than upon regimentation and controls."

The secretary said this year's new-soil bank program cannot be a full scale operation.

"The real test for this program," Benson said, "will come in 1957, 1958 and 1959 when we can put it fully into operation."

it later was cut off from relief because of its ineligibility.

Dearman said after the hearing that the evidence showed Mrs. Winston "was a citizen of Ohio because she had all the requirements of citizenship including the right to vote." He pointed out that she had lived in Cleveland about five years and also had joined a Baptist church there.

"Under Ohio law as well as Alabama law," said the Alabama judge, "when a father deserts a mother and the mother has taken care of the children, citizenship of the children follows that of the mother."

At the session before the Cleveland judge, a welfare representative told Woldman, "if these people are allowed to remain here, your honor, word will get back to the South and we will be flooded with similar families."

Wounded Boy, 13, Still Rated Lucky

Pickaway County Deputy Sheriff Dwight Radcliff described as "mighty lucky" a 13-year old boy who suffered an arm wound while playing with a 410-gauge shotgun.

The boy, Robert Cramblit of Circleville Route 3, was taken to Berger Hospital early yesterday afternoon after the accident occurred at his home. Deputy Radcliff said the boy was shot in the left arm above the wrist. The deputy added:

"He said he was playing with a dog and the gun at the same time, and suddenly the gun went off. He was mighty lucky. The wound isn't far more serious."

Denver Area Still Breathless From Its Climb

Rocky Mountain City Sees Industrialization Tie It Close To East

By SAM DAWSON

DENVER (AP)—This Rocky Mountain area is still a little breathless today from its rapid climb in the last 15 years. And now it is finding something new: Industrialization has tied it closer to the East and to the ups and downs there, from which the Denver area once was fairly remote and insulated.

"If times stay good back East and people there don't lose confidence because of president Eisenhower's illness," a Denver banker says, "we'll do all right at here."

"If payrolls hold up around the country," says a cattleman, "we'll be able to sell our cattle."

"If industrial production in the Midwest and Northeast holds at its present high level," says a mining spokesman, "our mining outlook is okay."

Traditionally Denver has been a distribution center — the biggest place between San Francisco to the west and Kansas City and Omaha to the east, between Dallas and Fort Worth to the south and Canada to the north. As the mid point in this vast area Denver has played wholesaler and broker to a steadily growing economy.

Industrialization is relatively new. Davis Moore, president of the First National Bank of Denver, says that some of the industries came because rising transportation costs and the growth of western population furnished a market that could be supplied cheaper by making products here than by shipping them long distances.

Other plants here make products where freight costs are a large fishing tackle industry—and ship them across the nation.

Some factories here supply parts to eastern manufacturers—one that makes fan belts for autos has felt the pinch of the Detroit automotive slowdown.

But the Denver area has one ace up its sleeve to beat the effects of any national recession, should one develop.

The defense program has been one of the biggest growth items around here. It seems still on the increase, and even in a general downturn this should be a stable industrial economy.

2 Pedestrians Die In City Traffic

COLUMBUS (AP)—Two pedestrians were the victims of fatal accidents here yesterday.

An auto struck and killed 3-year-old Kenneth Holsinger after colliding with a truck at an intersection. Police said the boy apparently was on a corner.

A police wrecker driven by a civilian employee struck and killed Mrs. Bessie Margaret Voit, 51, as she walked from the back door of the police station to a waiting cab.

60-Foot Fall Only Scratches Boy, 5

MORGANTON, N.C. (AP)—Five-year-old Gerald David Buff of Glen Alpine fell 60 feet into a dry well and escaped with slight bruises and a minor cut on his chin.

Burke County Sheriff Ray Sigmon said the child fell into the abandoned well while playing with other children. Sigmon said boards covering the well apparently had been removed by the children.

5 Akron Girls Fitting In OK With New Life As Prisoners

DELAWARE, Ohio (AP)—Five girls hatched a plan last November to escape from the juvenile detention home in Akron.

They overpowered a matron, Mrs. Eula Bonham, beat her and stuffed a rag soaked with ammonia in her mouth. The girls escaped and Mrs. Bonham died.

The girls were captured and the three youngest were sent to the Girls Industrial School near here.

"It's hard to believe the change that has come over three young Akron girls in the 10 weeks they have been in 'prison' for their part in killing the detention home matron," says William D. Schlemmer, reporter for the Akron-Beacon Journal, who interviewed the girls.

They're settled, they smile and they get along well with the nearly 300 other girls at GIS, Schlemmer says.

"I like it here very much," said Margaret Nicholson, who will be 16 next month. "It's like having a home away from home."

Another of the girls, Mirl Cain, who was 16 last month, said she wants to go home someday. "But not now," she said. "I think I'd rather be here than anywhere else right now. Later I'll start thinking about going home."

The youngest, Shirley Shingler, who won't be 16 until Dec. 22, said "I like it fine here."

The girls live in separate cottages and don't see much of each other.

"I'm different, honest," said Mirl Cain. "I've really learned my lesson. No more trouble now."

Shirley was proud that she was learning to cook and bake.

Margaret described her typical day:

"I get up at 6:15. That's about 15 minutes ahead of the girls who don't do kitchen work."

"We keep busy all morning with breakfast and getting lunch ready. About one we're cleaned up. Then we have free time. Then at 4:30 we go back for supper and by six we're done for the day."

In "free" time, the girls loaf in their rooms or wash their clothes. They are allowed outside but only in the immediate vicinity of their own cottages.

They also are allowed planned recreation.

At 9 p.m., the girls must go to their rooms. Lights out is 9:30 p.m.

Reporters were not permitted to interview Ruth Beichler, 17, and Mrs. Zelda DeCost, 16, at the State Reformatory for Women near Marysville where they were sent for their part in the matron's death.

"We don't have too many young ones here," said Supt. Marguerite Reilly. "We decided just to ignore these two and not make any fuss over them. So far, they are doing all right and I don't want them put in the spotlight right now."

Two Pickaway County soldiers took part in a two-week amphibious training exercise with the Army's 1st Cavalry Division's 8th Regiment. The maneuvers were on the Pacific island of Iwo Jima. Among those participating was Army Specialist Second Class Kenneth L. Russell, son of Claude J. Russell of Ashville Route 1, and Pfc. Paul E. Caudy, whose wife, Florence, and father, Cecil G. Caudy, live near Williamsport.

The exercise culminated in a full-scale amphibious assault supported by warships, aircraft and simulated atomic attack.

Both men are regularly stationed at Camp Whittington, Japan. Russell is assigned to a tank company of the regiment, and Caudy is a mechanic with a heavy mortar company.

Russell, 20, entered the Army in October 1953 and arrived in the Far East in April 1954. Caudy, 21, entered the Army in March of last year, and was stationed at Fort Lewis, Wash., before going overseas.

Philip R. Enoch, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Enoch of Circleville Route 1, has been promoted to first lieutenant in the U. S. Air Force.

Lt. Enoch began his military career on June 4, 1955. He completed the officer personnel course at Scott Air Force Base, and currently is working as assistant chief of the career development division, attached to headquarters of the 1st Air Force.

Active in various programs, he won the lead role in the Mitchell Air Force Base theater group's play, "Laura."

Lt. Enoch also writes a column for a base publication and participates in religious activities.

Girls State Legislation Starts Grind

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Buckeye Girls State delegates started action on their legislative program today after a tour of state offices Thursday gave them some first hand information on the ins and outs of governmental procedure.

Besides legislative activities, today's program includes talks by Judge Charles Zimmerman of the Ohio Supreme Court, Mrs. Constance R. Keller, probate judge of Crawford County, Mrs. Lester M. Merritt, the program's dean of government, Miss Margaret Mahoney, director of the Ohio Department of Industrial Relations, and Ms. Wayne Black, legal assistant to the attorney general.

Thursday's tour of state offices netted Gov. Marilyn Marsh, 17, of Beachwood and some of her 635 constituents some views on running for public office from Gov. Frank J. Lausche.

Gov. Lausche, considered by some a darkhorse in the Democratic presidential nomination race, decried those who are "too anxious" for the nomination.

Ohio's favorite son Democratic candidate said:

"I think one can be too anxious and too avid and when one adopts that attitude he is saying he alone is fit for the job."

The five-term Ohio chief executive alluded to no particular candidate for the Democratic nomination during his informal talk with the delegates.

The eight-day program, sponsored by the American Legion auxiliary, ends Saturday night with the presentation of special awards.

What Is The Church?

Much confusion exists in the minds of people today as to just what the church is. Even religious leaders and preachers are not agreed. Why is this so? Because they haven't gone to the Bible for their answer, but have accepted what uninspired men have said about it. For this and succeeding lessons we shall go to the Bible to find out the nature of the church. Certainly we can agree on the Bible.

SOME THINGS THE CHURCH IS NOT

1. IT IS NOT A MEETING HOUSE OR MATERIAL BUILDING: Paul said that God "dwelleth not in temples made with hands" (Acts 17:24). The elaborateness of the building does not make it more acceptable with God, for which some of us may be thankful. "Fear" can come upon it (Acts 5:11). It has "ears" (Acts 11:22). It is not a temporal building.

2. IT IS NOT A DENOMINATION: The word church is used in two senses in the New Testament: (1) THE UNIVERSAL CHURCH, referring to all the saved on earth (Matt. 16:18); (2) THE LOCAL CHURCH, composed of the saved in any given locality, as "the church of God which is at Corinth" (1 Cor. 1:2). A denomination cannot qualify for either definition. A denomination has been properly defined to be a religious organization smaller than the whole church, but larger than the local church. No denomination claims to have in its fold all the saved. They tell us there are saved people in all denominations. We are further told that the denominations make up the church universal. This we deny! If this were true it would make God the author of confusion because the denominations teach conflicting doctrines and will not fellowship one another as long as these conflicting doctrines are taught. Is the universal church of God out of fellowship with itself? Nay, verily! Furthermore, if denominations make up the one church of Christ where was the church until the denominations came into existence? The truth is it is not a denomination. (More to follow about WHAT IS THE CHURCH).

WASHINGTON (AP)—The French have plainly asked the United States if it feels inferior in a peaceful contest with communism to show whether the West or Russia has the better way of life.

The question, asked by French Foreign Minister Pineau, could also be interpreted as asking the Eisenhower administration if it has no ideas of its own in trying to handle the Russians' shift in tactics.

That the shift from belligerency to an expressed desire for peaceful coexistence has had some success—at least if only in driving a small wedge between the allies—is illustrated here the past 10 days.

Pineau followed West Germany's chancellor here in a meeting with Secretary of State Dulles to confer on dealing with Russia.

The three men solidly agreed that the Soviet shift from hard to soft should not induce them to weaken their military alliances. On the contrary: All three say the North Atlantic Treaty Organization should be strengthened.

But while Dulles and Adenauer, in their communique, harped on their distrust of Russian sincerity, that problem wasn't even mentioned in the communique which Pineau signed with Dulles.

That was undoubtedly because Pineau wanted it that way. There can be doubt of Dulles' distrust of Russian intentions. He's expressed it often enough, no later than Thursday when he made a speech denouncing the Russian leadership.

Pineau told how he felt in a speech before the National Press Club on the same day, June 20, he signed the communique. He brushed aside as of minor importance right now the question of Russian sincerity. In brief he said:

If the Russians want peaceful coexistence, then the West ought to take steps to help make it a reality. It's worth trying. If then the Russians prove disappointing, the West can reconsider the whole problem.

Domino Table Stolen In Town

HUGO, Okla. (AP)—The summer recreation program for the elder citizens of this southeast Oklahoma town has been crippled.

Someone stole the domino table from under the trees in a downtown vacant lot. A reward of $15 was quickly posted. Deputy Sheriff Ed Thornton said the table, with attached seats, was so heavy it would take at least two persons with a truck to haul it away.

Health Leaders Slated For Meet

COLUMBUS (AP)—The Ohio health department will sponsor the seventh annual Health Commissioners Institute June 26-28 at Granville.

Dr. Ralph E. Dwork, state health director, said speakers will cover several phases of industrial health programs. Subjects discussed will include environmental cancer, ionizing radiation, air pollution and industrial skin problems, he said.

CLEVELAND (AP)—Hotel Manager Allen J. Lowe, who took out the first Eisenhower-for-President charter in Ohio in 1949, has turned down an invitation to join the advisory committee of the Ohio Citizens for Eisenhower Committee.

State, District Sales Tax Data Has New Gains

State Treasurer Roger W. Tracy reported today that Ohio's sales tax collections of $4,150,449 from the sale of prepaid tax receipts for the week ending June 9, 1956, topped the corresponding week of 1955 by $133,745, or 4.63 percent.

Sales tax receipts in Pickaway County, by the same comparison, went along with the trend, and by a far more substantial margin of gain.

In this district, sales tax collections for the week ending June 9 totaled $8,160.16. For the corresponding week of last year, they amounted to $6,618.10.

The sales tax figures are generally accepted as a reliable trade barometer.

WITH THREE weeks of the current fiscal year yet to be reported, the statewide collections have already exceeded those of the entire 1955 fiscal year by $4,067,675.

On the basis of cumulative grand total revenues, which include prepaid tax receipts, use tax and other collections from last July 1, when the current fiscal year began, the over-all total was $213,272,938 on June 9, 1956.

Tracy said that this amount exceeds the grand total collections of $190,569,586 registered on June 11, 1955, for the corresponding period of the previous fiscal year, by $22,703,352, or 11.9 percent.

Lake Ore Shipping Hitting High Gear

CLEVELAND (AP)—Iron ore is moving down the Great Lakes at near record volume.

In the seven days ended Monday the Great Lakes ore fleet hauled 3,205,802 tons, it was reported by the Lake Superior Iron Ore Assn. That was the first time this season the shipments had hit three million tons a week. For the 1956 shipping season shipments have totaled 25,867,540 tons.

Today in the United States is tomorrow in Korea, due to the international dateline running through the Pacific.

"Mary Haworth's Mail"

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: I am 39, and my husband, four daughters and I are very affectionate with each other, so I know I am not altogether cold and indifferent. But there are times when I have a feeling that the more I see of people, the less I like them.

I have in mind three persons who kindle this feeling—one a friend, the other two in-laws, who are closely associated with me, and whom I should love dutifully. However, they irritate me no end, as I should like to tell them, but I have to hide my innermost thoughts, and act sweet and kind—and insincere.

It irks me to have them continually referring to their big hearts, kind souls, good nature, sympathetic service to others, etc., but in the past, when I was outspokenly frank, they made me feel like a heel, with their outbursts of tears. Yet I have been a hypocrite to keep peace.

Other people don't affect me this way, provided they don't get too close. I dislike the smothering feeling of someone closing in, possessively. My mother rarely kissed me, and my father never, to my knowledge. He was the authoritative, know-it-all type. It is my nature to keep friends at a comfortable distance; and it is embarrassing to have a woman kiss me, though I manage, clumsily, to put on an act.

C.L. DEAR C.L.: You are pretty self-centered, it seems; little interested in individuals as objects.

of-interest in themselves. Temperamentally you are quite a bit like your dad, inclined to be authoritative and know-it-all, at least in the privacy of your thoughts (when passing judgment on other people; especially those of a different stripe).

You are comfortable with the members of your household because there you wear the pants, figuratively speaking; you play the leading role, and the others take their cues from you. But out with "the girls," or with members of this trio that upsets you, it is another matter. You are just one of the cast of characters, a member of the chorus line, so to say—and it comes hard for you to do what is expected of you, in that situation. (Papa's temperament, again).

I wouldn't designate you as neurotic, necessarily. But it strikes me that the natural bias of your personality—your characteristic ways of feeling, thinking, being and doing—veers more to-

9th Marriage Ends, Musician To Quit

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Orchestra leader Charlie Barnet, 42, his ninth marriage now behind him, says he may retire from the matrimonial scene.

His ninth wife, Linda Joyce Johnson, 23, Thursday in Superior Court obtained an annulment of their proxy Mexican marriage. They were wed less than two months.

When asked about his future matrimonial plans, Barnet told a newsman:

"I think I had better retire." Miss Johnson's attorneys told the court that the proxy papers were not legally notarized and therefore the marriage was invalid.

Spring Pig Crop Estimated To Be Below 1955's Total

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Agriculture Department today reported this year's spring pig crop totaled 53,085,000 head, a drop of 8 percent from last year's big spring crop.

This means that supplies of pork during the coming fall and winter season will be smaller than a year earlier and that hog prices are likely to average considerably above depressed levels of a year ago.

The production report had been forecast by some officials and farm leaders and had raised Republican hopes of winning farm votes in the midwestern agricultural area.

Last year hog prices dropped about 40 percent. Producer complained and the department engaged in a broad pork buying campaign in an effort to bolster prices. This price decline followed a sharp expansion—department officials called it "overexpansion"—in hog production.

The department also forecast the 1956 fall pig crop at 35 million head, which also would be 8 percent smaller than the fall crop of last year.

The fall crop will provide pork supplies next spring and summer. On the basis of these figures, the total 1956 pig production would be 88,085,000 head compared with 95,604,000 last year and with 88,142,000 for the ten year (1945 average).

The spring pig crop by major producing states this year and last, respectively, included Ohio 2,652,000 and 2,660,000.

Continuing Mission of the Church

ALTHOUGH A PRISONER, PAUL WAS ABLE TO PREACH CHRIST TO JEWS IN ROME.

Scripture—Acts 27-28.

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL

THE PERILS of sea voyages in Paul's time are vividly described by St. Luke in the last of the book of Acts. Even today, with all modern machinery and safeguards, vessels are still occasionally lost in storms.

Many lives are saved, however, in such disasters by radio messages telling of a vessel in difficulties to nearby ships that rush to its assistance. Small vessels, private yachts and fishing vessels are sometimes lost and men perish when sudden storms assail them and help comes too late.

The ships on which Paul and other prisoners began their journey to Rome met with many storms and were almost lost several times; but thanks to Paul's presence and his advice and courage, the 276 persons on board would have drowned.

His advice was not always taken, although, the voyage would have been less hazardous if it had been. Julius, the Roman centurion in charge of the prisoners, came to trust and admire Paul.

This portion of the lesson should be told briefly but vividly of the chief of the island of a serious, near fatal illness. After that the people brought other sick persons to be healed by him.

After three months on Melita, "We departed in a ship of Alexandria which had wintered in the isle, whose sign was Castor and Pollux." They landed at Syracuse for three days, then Rhegium, than to Puteoli where they found brethren and tarried seven days, then on to Rome.

Paul had always wished very much to see the great city of Rome. Now he sees it, indeed, but as a prisoner in chains. On the road they were met by brethren who had heard they were coming and went to meet them, for which Paul thanked God and "took courage."

The other prisoners were turned over to the captain of the guard by Julius, the centurion, but Paul was allowed to live in a house by himself with a soldier to guard him. Here Paul called the Jews of the city together, telling them that he had done nothing wrong, and if he had not appealed to Caesar, he would have been free.

Paul asked them what reports they had heard about him, but they answered that, "We neither to the children, as it will fire their imaginations and interest them greatly. It can be shown them how Paul, through his courage and trust in God, saved not only himself, but all the people on shipboard, who would have cast themselves overboard at the mercy of the rocks and waves but for him.

Jesus said: "Ye shall receive power after that the Holy Ghost is come upon ye; and ye shall be witnesses unto Me both in Jerusalem, and in all Judea and in Samaria, and unto the uttermost part of the earth."—Acts 1:8.

God sent His angel to tell Paul that not one life would be lost, when they had been so filled with terror that they had not eaten nor moved. He told them to eat for their health's sake, and he set the example, so all ate and their courage returned.

I like particularly the story of the final shipwreck of one of the boats on the island of Melita (thought now to have possibly been Malta), where all swam to shore or rode on pieces of the wrecked vessel until all were saved.

The inhabitants are described as "barbarians" but they were warm hearted people who sheltered and fed the shipwrecked people. They considered Paul a god after he threw a viper off his hand into the fire kindled by wood he had helped gather without harm to him.

Even more sure they must have been when he healed the father received letters out of Judea concerning thee, neither any of the brethren that came shewed or spake any harm of thee."

Then they asked him to tell them what he thought of "this sect," for they knew, they said, "that everywhere it is spoken against."

So Paul appointed a day and many came to his lodging to hear him. As he told them about Jesus and the Holy Ghost, his hearers did not agree. Some believed but many did not. Paul said: that the word spoken by the prophet Isaiah was indeed true: "Go unto this people, and say, Hearing ye shall hear not and seeing ye shall see, and not perceive: for the heart of this people is waxed gross, and their ears are dull of hearing, and their eyes they have closed."

So ends Luke's Book of the Acts of the Apostles. It is indeed a wonderful description of good men who had the courage to spread the gospel of Christ throughout the known world, to Gentiles as well as Jews. They "carried on" in the face of almost certain imprisonment and death. Could Christians today follow their example? Some can and do, but could we do so?

KEEP FEEDER LINES OPEN

SOME OF THE major religious denominations, in annual conferences, estimate the nation will need at least 5,000 additional ministers to fill pastorates of new and expanding churches in the next four years. That is probably a low estimate.

The "back to religion" movement is the real thing. Hundreds of long-established church plants are overcrowded with worshippers today. Church affiliation and support are gaining steadily, the same as manufacturing, science, housing, transportation, education, welfare, road-building, hospitalization, public health and the efforts toward establishing peace on earth.

Where will new ministers come from? For the most part they will come from same basic feeder lines as always — the mother's knee, the home altar, and the Sunday school. Church organizations are striving continuously to keep these feeder lines open.

There have been instances in which men, after reaching adulthood, happily engaged in gainful occupation such as carpentering, salesmanship, railroading and other lines, suddenly turned to the ministry or evangelism for a livelihood, and achieved remarkable success.

That practice may continue among some groups, but the executive authorities of most of the church denominations and organizations today require a person to finish a minimum of seven years of special schooling before being ordained as a minister. And most of these individuals were given their start toward the ministry in the home and in Sunday school.

If 5,000 new ministers are needed to fill pastorates in new and expanding churches in the next four years, they will be forthcoming — and perhaps better trained for the exalted position than many have been in the past. Home training of young people in religious thought and action may have broken down in some degree during the last third of a century, but there is enough left of it to fill the Sunday school rooms in almost every city, town, village and cross-roads neighborhood.

SWAPPING HOUSES

FEDERAL Housing Administration has just announced a plan for more federal aid to home purchase deals which include trade-ins of older dwellings.

Some home buyers in the Washington, D. C., area have tried to persuade home builders to accept old homes as trade-ins. But so far builders there have given a flat "No." However, some think that the house-selling situation there may bring a change of heart by some construction outfits.

What a boon a trade-in proposition would be to the homeowner. Say what you please about car trade-ins, at least the car dealer takes your old clunker off your hands when he sells you the latest model.

That isn't true in the housing game. And many a prospective home buyer has been exasperated and sometimes completely frustrated because he couldn't get rid of his old house.

We can see it now. Calling up a real estate agency and saying, "We'd like to buy a brand new three-bedroom home. We have

These Days

A circular arrived recently which indicates that the Republican National Committee has an "Ethnic Division." I wonder if the Democrats have one too. What is an Ethnic Division? The word, ethnic, would indicate that this division has something to do with ethnology which is the science of the races of man. An Ethnic Division would therefore have something to do with the races of man, their origin and distribution.

A specialist in this field is likely to be someone connected with a university who can tell at a glance to which kind of a race a man belongs, just as a geologist classifies rocks. He would learn something from the language of a race or the day may come when someone will write a learned volume on ethnic foods.

The Republican National Committee has, it is to be assumed from its possession of an Ethnic Division, gone in for the higher culture and abstract and applied sciences, which is better in a way, if it really is so, than Mr. Butler's vulgarisms, Paul Butler being the Chairman of the Democratic National Committee, if you do not already know of this.

The Ethnic Division presumably exists to look after those American citizens who have unfortunately been denominated as minorities since David Niles found a desk and a function in the White House. Prior to 1933, no American regarded himself as belonging to a minority race, but just as a plain American who was entitled to vote on Election Day and usually did if he lived where it was convenient.

There was a time when the Irish were the newcomers in a place like New York or Boston but if anyone called an Irishman an ethnic, he would invite a hard punch on the nose which would be justified on the ground that one voter was as good as another and so's your old man.

Where I lived in the good old days before politics became so scientific, Jews displaced the Irish in population but still accepted Irish political leadership. The Sullivan clan, Big and Little Tim and their numerous relatives, were the leading Democratic politicians and the Republicans did not count because they belonged up-town among the aristocrats who had the dough.

In due course, these aristocrats moved to suburbs where they built glorified mansions for themselves and so the entire city of New York, except for one silk-stocking district, became Democratic, but nobody went ethnic on us because it was generally felt that a vote is a vote no matter who owns it.

So when the Italians displaced the Jews and the Irish went up-town and became as fancy as the Germans and the English, La Guardia became Mayor of New York and he brought in the Puerto Ricans to displace the Negroes who had taken over Harlem from the Irish and the Jews. There was nothing ethnic about this, because between elections nobody worried too much about the ethnic characteristics of a neighborhood, except if anybody had more money than the other fellow, he moved into a better neighborhood, where the houses were newer and the streets cleaner.

Such movements of population were natural and usual until the Depression put a stop to house-building; now we have projects and some are termed "inter-racial" probably to start a row. That is how our big cities grow.

SYNOPSIS
Priscilla, who is bored with her job in a New York office and unimpressed with the excitement of the city, is notified of an unexpected bequest from a great-aunt, and naturally her interest is stirred by what follows. Her older, wiser friend, Rita Lambert, accompanies Priscilla on the auto trip to Apalachicola, Fla., to see the principal item in the bequest—an abandoned old mansion called Lookout House. The girls learn that the house is "haunted" and has a secret passage. The two decide to remain to appear to be just tourists until they know more about why three different men have taken a curious interest in the place and in them. The men are Bill Duval, who says he is a writer, Red Gallagher, a fisherman, and Luis Alvarez, a wealthy yachtman.

After first visit to the house, Rita finds $500 in brand-new bills on the floor, and Todd, the attorney for the estate, reveals that Alvarez is interested in buying the house.

The local belle, Peggy Fomero, is naturally annoyed at Priscilla's attraction of the attention of her two best beaux, Dick Devereaux and Dick Devereaux. Dick, a doctor, says a professional call to Priscilla, and now Bill Duval is quitting him.

CHAPTER 12

THE YOUNG doctor said, "Look, Bill, you've been here a couple of weeks. I've asked no questions because I didn't consider that it was any of my business. But you might accomplish more if you took someone into your confidence. I'd like to know what's on your mind about those two girls."

"You may be right, Doc, about my needing a little help. Maybe I'm on the wrong track."

"Are you really a writer?"

"I've been a newspaperman and done some free-lancing, but let's just say writing is not why I'm here. You'll have to trust me for the time being."

"It has something to do with those two girls?"

"Maybe. I hope not. Could you get a date with the younger one and take me along for—Zee?"

Dick looked at him and laughed. "You're taking me a little fast. But I find the idea rather appealing. I can try."

As he finished speaking, a shiny black convertible of foreign make slid by, the top down, Alvarez behind the wheel. He was driving slowly, his eyes moving from one side of the street to the other.

"He, too, is on my mind," Bill said, watching. "I'm wondering lately if I'm on his."

"Well, you know why he's here? He contemplates building a hotel. He's a big fisherman, too, and he's speculating."

Rennett Cerf's Try, Stop Me

In the nature of things a golfer is never satisfied. The duffer longs to break 100; the man in the 90's sees no reason why he shouldn't be ringing up pars. They tell about a tempestuous top-liner named Tommy Bolt who broke a Professional Golf Association record one day in San Diego by recording seven straight birdies in championship play and winding up his round with an almost unbelievable 64.

Was Mr. Bolt content? Not at all! He flung his bag into a corner of the golf shop and grumbled, "If two puts had sunk like they should have, doggone it, I'd have had a 62!"

"Goodness gracious!" exclaimed Mrs. Periwinkle to a fellow-officer of the temperance society, "this time they really HAVE gone too far! They're distilling whiskey for children!" As proof, she waved aloft an ad whose headline boasted, "The best 12-year-old whiskey in all the world!"

turn into a parking space across the street and at that moment they saw the green Dodge park alongside, only to back out immediately. The black car also backed out and went in the same direction.

"See what I mean?" said Bill. They watched both cars turn across the long bridge.

Bill got out of Dick's car. "Think I'll follow them." He walked over to his own car and got in. Dick watched him turn toward the bridge. Bill was a nice fellow, there was no doubt about that. Was he a detective? If so, what was he looking for in a small, peaceful town like Apalachicola?

"It's queer, isn't it, Rita?" asked Priscilla. "Our being here, in this darling little cottage. And just across the street, an old house that actually belongs to me. A week ago I wouldn't have thought all this possible."

"You sort of like it, don't you?" Rita smiled at the younger girl.

"I love it. I have a feeling of belonging. If my mother had never gone away, or if she had lived and brought me back here..." Her voice trailed off. A moment later, she said, "Rita, didn't you like Dr. Devereaux?"

"What an abrupt change of subject," Rita said, laughing. "And yes, I liked him. He's so blond and browned and out-of-doors looking. And such white teeth. But don't go getting ideas, Priscilla. You've only seen the man twice. How do you know whether you would like him or not?"

"I know," Rita advised good-naturedly. "You'll probably never see him again."

"I'm being silly, of course. But I did like him," Priscilla changed the subject. "I suppose we should go over to Lookout House and see if there's anything I'd like to keep."

"And it would probably be wise, too, to go ahead and accept Alvarez's offer. After all, the real estate people and Mr. Todd think it is more than you'll be offered again. And more than the property is actually worth."

"I can't help wondering why he's in such a hurry. Perhaps we'd better meet him at Mr. Todd's office and talk it over."

"You're right, Priscilla. I think tomorrow you should let Mr. Todd to go ahead and close the deal."

Don't Let Heavy Jobs Cause Injury To Back

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

THOSE simple summertime chores around the house can be downright dangerous if you don't go about them properly.

Cutting the grass, for example, appears to be an elementary task. It is, too, but you might wind up with an aching back if you use the wrong procedure.

Delicate Parts

Your arms and legs, you realize, are pretty muscular and relatively strong. Your back, however, has numerous delicate parts. It can be easily injured if you let it and not your arms and legs do all the heavy work.

The sacroiliac joints which join the sacrum to the hipbone do not move freely as do your elbows or knees. Violent twisting or anything else which forces them out of position may bring on excruciating sacroiliac pain.

Simple Rules

So, when pushing the lawn mower, don't just dig in and push. I think you'll find you'll take as much strain as possible off your back if you follow these four simple rules:

- 1 Keep your back as straight as possible, don't hunch over.
- 2 Lean forward from your ankles, not from your hips.
- 3 Brace your feet to get the maximum power from your legs.
- 4 Push against the ground. Carrying heavy loads such as bags of cement and the like can be dangerous, too.

Heavy Objects

The best method of lifting a heavy object from the ground is to squat and take the opposite ends of the bag in your arms. Next, straighten your back and then draw the bag straight up by straightening your legs.

While carrying it, rest the load against your hip and stomach. As for lifting an object that is already on a platform such as the rear end of a truck or the trunk of a car, squat and draw it onto your shoulder. Grab the front end with both hands.

Then rise by straightening your legs. Lean forward and brace the load by placing your hand on your hip.

This should make carrying a lot easier—and safer.

QUESTION AND ANSWER

P. G.: If a woman has been operated on and sterilized, is it possible for her to have another operation so that she can have another baby?

Answer: In most cases an operation to restore the fallopian tubes cannot be carried out. However, in some few instances such restoration of the tubes is sometimes possible. You might consult with the physician who performed the operation.

Middle Age Is Picnic Time

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—There is a disease in middle age that cripples many people.

This disease is cancer of the mind. Its symptoms are an unreasoning discontent with life, a feeling of futility that sears the souls of so many people in their middle years.

Recently a man I have known for years came up and spoke with me. In the midst of a casual conversation he suddenly blurted out:

"Tell me, what do you do when you know for sure you aren't going to go any further? What has a guy got left?"

My friend was deeply depressed. He was suffering from his first onset of "middle age sickness," one sign of which is that a man gets tired of himself and starts thinking he is a human failure.

For the life of me, I couldn't see why, and I told him so. To begin with he was wrong. His job future didn't lie in the past. He hadn't reached his limit of promotion in his field, and his fears that he had gone about as far as he could go were strictly premature.

But even if he had at nearly 50 achieved the top job and income of which he was capable, was that such a disaster?

This man owned his own home and his own car. He had kept his family comfortably fed, sheltered and clothed, and all were healthy. He had educated his two children and both had turned out well. Neither was a cop fighter or a poolroom shark.

By any sensible standard this man was a real success. He had done far better than most men throughout mankind's troubled history, which has been a long search for safety, a full stomach, and a warm place out of the cold to dream in for a while.

Why should it make him either a better or happier man if he should now go on and pile up enough money to become the richest fellow in his part of the cemetery? What if he doesn't ever get a bigger job? Should that make him feel living has lost its luster?

For some reason, although middle age has been in the world for quite some time, it catches most people by surprise.

The middle-aged wife, whose children are grown and flown, is inclined to brood that she has fulfilled her purpose in life and is no longer needed. The middle-aged husband, recognizing it is now highly unlikely he can ever realize the grandiose dreams of his youth, feels himself rutilant.

This "middle age sickness" turns some people crabbed and sour. As any doctor knows, it leads to all sorts of maladies in others. Many even lose all zest for life and shrivel to death, like a flower caught by a late frost.

We are doing a lot of "education for living" nowadays. Why doesn't some philanthropic foundation start a project to teach adults that middle age isn't the critical point of no return in life, but merely another bend in the road and not a bad place to pause and have a picnic?

Burille And Sensenbrenner Wed In Chillicothe Church

Rev. Baker Performs Nuptial Ceremony

Miss Carolyn Sue Burille and Mr. Robert C. Sensenbrenner were united in marriage in Trinity Lutheran Church of Chillicothe.

The double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Harry Baker before an altar decorated with white gladioli and snapdragons and seven branched candelabras.

The former Miss Burille is the daughter of Mr. Charles Burille of Chillicothe and the late Mrs. Burille and Mr. Sensenbrenner is the son of Mrs. Alice Sensenbrenner of Circleville.

The bride, given in marriage by her brother, Mr. William Burille, wore a gown of Chantilly lace and nylon tulle over satin and net. The lace basque bodice was edged in nylon tulle and the long lace sleeves came to points over her hands. The bouffant skirt of tulle over satin featured appliques of lace, which extended in a chapel train. Her finger tip veil of French illusion was held in place with a crown of seed pearls. She carried a cascade of white roses centered with a white orchid and her only jewelry was a single strand of pearls.

Mrs. Robert Smith, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Carol Accord and Miss Jeanne McHugh.

They wore identical gowns of waltz-length lace and nylon tulle in shades of pink, yellow and blue with full lace skirts worn over ermines. They wore matching headbands with short veils and matching lace mitts and carried colonial bouquets of rose buds and daisies.

Serving as best man for his brother was Mr. William Sensenbrenner. Ushers included: Mr. James E. Sensenbrenner, brother of the groom, Mr. Warden Rawlins, Mr. Robert Smith and Mr. John Penn.

The prenuptial music was presented by the groom's sister, Miss Nancy Sensenbrenner, who sang, "Because," "I Love You Truly," "If I Could Tell You" and "The Lord's Prayer." She was accompanied at the organ by Mrs. John Kane.

A reception was held in the social rooms of the church with Mrs. Richard Strawsbaugh, Mrs. Perry Wallingford and Mrs. William Burille. The four-tiered wedding cake, topped with miniature bride and groom, centered the table and was flanked on each side by pink candles.

For the event Miss Martha Burille, the bride's sister, wore a pink silk sheath dress with white accessories and pink roses corsage. Mrs. Sensenbrenner wore a mauve lace dress with matching accessories and an orchid corsage.

For the couple's trip to Washington, D. C. the new Mrs. Sensenbrenner wore a beige linen sheath dress with white accessories and the orchid from her bridal bouquet.

The bride is a graduate of Chillicothe High School and is employed in the classified advertising department of the Chillicothe Gazette.

Mr. Sensenbrenner was graduated from Circleville High School and is a member of Company I local National Guard unit. He is presently employed by the Cussins and Fearn Company.

The new Mr. and Mrs. Sensenbrenner will reside at 427 Mill St. in Chillicothe.

Where Ya Parkin'?
You can start a hot hassle in a lot of places around town these days with just one plain question: "Is it true that a good many people park every day on Watt St. and then ride the bus to Columbus or Chillicothe?"

Not so long ago in one of city council's gatherings, it was said that a good many motorists make it a daily habit, thus holding a parking space free for most of the working day. But the denials are now coming in fast, and sizzling—especially in view of the current arguments over the proposed four-hour parking meters.

At least one man, in position to watch them come and go, says he will put up a substantial wager that not more than two or three people on the average day park on Watt and then use the bus. Watt St. residents said more or less the same thing in council's latest huddle.

Out of the whole parking debate, however, has come the habit of watching strangers when they park their cars and stroll off in the downtown section. A lot of the main wrangle is centered on how many park to shop, and how many others park just to get rid of their cars for awhile.

"I stopped down on your Watt St. the other day," one out-of-town driver remarked, "and everybody in town seemed to be watching me!"

P.S. He only paused for a few minutes. Wanted directions to Dayton.

New Youth Fitness Council To Be Named By President

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (AP) — An important first step has been taken by American leaders who met here to consider ways of bettering the physical fitness of American youth in an age of automobiles and escalators.

A prominent group of youth leaders left a two-day conference on the subject here with assurance from President Eisenhower that he will follow their recommendation and establish a "President's Council on Youth Fitness."

It would be composed of Cabinet members concerned with the problem and will coordinate activities of 35 federal agencies.

Eisenhower also said he would name a citizens' advisory committee to arouse in the American people a "new awareness" of the importance of physical and recreational activity.

The President's concern over failure of American youths to pass a basic "minimum fitness" test which European youths breezed through resulted in the calling of the conference here.

MAKING UP the conference were persons prominent in sports, medicine and other fields.

In his letter to the delegates this week, the President said he believed the delegates shared his feeling that a good fitness program was essentially a home and local community problem, and that a federal program should not be necessary beyond the coordinating and encouraging of local efforts.

Study groups at the conference also made these proposals:

Daily physical education programs in schools and better health instruction for every child.

More financial support for recreation and youth programs "which the nation not only can afford but cannot afford to deny." And all such groups in the community — schools, churches, social organizations and others—should cooperate. Fitness programs should begin in the home, and adults as well as children should participate. Play areas should be set aside in homes for this purpose.

Soviet, America Plan Exchange Of Magazines

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Russian picture magazine, resembling Life in makeup and called "USSR," will appear on America's newsstands in a couple of weeks.

Its cover will be a four-color photograph of President Eisenhower shaking hands with Soviet Premier Bulganin at the Geneva summit conference last summer.

Its content, according to the Soviet Embassy, will be a nonpolitical exposition of life in the Soviet Union—64 pages of it in words and in pictures, both color and black-and-white. It will sell for around 15 to 20 cents a copy.

At the time USSR hits American newsstands, a virtually identical U. S. magazine called "Amerika" will be going on sale inside the Soviet Union. It, too, will run to 64 pages and will lean to pictures, both color and black-and-white.

town traffic lights are hard to see, especially when you happen to be looking toward a low-on-horizon sun. The city, however, claims it has tried everything reasonable to correct the trouble.

Fast Talk

In the Great American Home: "I want you to know that, while you were away, I swatted a fly in the dining room, and he was so big I had to hit him three times." "Don't bother me with small things. The time to start worrying is when he takes the swatter away from you and swings back."

PICTURE TALKS

by Mickey Storms and Norman Kutler
Rexall Camera Dept.

It's vacation time again — the two, three, or four weeks you've been looking forward to all year. Maybe you're planning only a few day-long outings with the family. Maybe you're driving across country. Maybe you're taking a plane to Europe. Whatever your plans, include your camera in.

These are precious days which you'll want to remember. Naturally, they'll be most colorfully recorded in color slides, most vividly in color stereo. But there will also be mementos you'll treasure in black-and-white snapshots. Just a few tips: Keep your camera loaded with film at all times; keep a supply of flashbulbs on hand for those dim-light or after-dark pictures which add so much to the story. If you're traveling by car, don't store your camera on the back shelf or in the glove compartment. Excessive heat can seriously damage film. Protect it from the dust, sand, and the salt spray at the seashore. But DO keep it close at hand. Make a complete picture record of your vacation, and your vacation need never end. Whenever fancy strikes, you can whip out your album projector and there is your vacation story, ready to be relived just as it happened.

Anonymous Donor's Signature Sought

PROVIDENCE, R.I. (AP) — The Episcopal charities fund certainly does not object to anonymous contributions, but . . .

In a front page story this week, the Rhode Island Churchman, the Episcopal organ, says it would appreciate it if the anonymous donor of $20 would identify himself long enough to sign the check.

Christmas Lights Finally Removed

ASBURY PARK, N. J. (AP) — Christmas tree lights strung around police headquarters were removed Thursday, the first day of summer.

Baby Name Picked To Promote Sales?

PARIS, Ky. (AP) — O. T. Sharon Jr., denies selecting his new son's name to promote business.

Sharon is a partner in a petroleum firm. The son, born Wednesday, was named Glen Allen Sharon. Vags accused Sharon of picking the name for the initials: G.A.S.

Northern Ohio Strawberries Few

CLEVELAND (AP) — Marketing of home-grown strawberries is at its peak in northern Ohio this week, but it's not much of a peak.

The wholesale price here ranged from 35 to 40 cents a quart for good quality, with a top of 50 cents for especially fine berries.

Cool, wet weather made the season peak arrive about 10 days behind schedule and is to blame for the disappointing crop of strawberries, normally a multimillion-dollar business for northern Ohio.

Sokolosky's These Days

This ethnic business marks the new efficiency in politics, the National Committee having accepted all the new devices of intellectual corruption and brain-washing, as, for instance, telling a Negro that he is a discontented person long before he has discovered it for himself and asking him to vote not as an American but as a discontented person.

Similarly, the various experts and consultants on Jewish problems try to make Jewish citizens believe that they are not Americans or that other Americans believe that they are not

Americans so that they must hook up with politicians through ethnic divisions and get some special benefits or special protections which are not acceptable to decent folk of any ethnic division. Most Jews dislike the attitude.

And the same holds true for the 50 or more ethnic divisions that compose the American race of man, a race that has been in the making for three centuries by assimilation, intermarriage and liberty. It would be sound to have a slogan such as "An American is an American."

Jack Harshman Wins 1-Hitter For Chisox

Ex-First Baseman Sees Own Mates Limited To Single Bingle By Orioles

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

In 1953, Jack Harshman gave his wife a catcher's mitt for Christmas. He wanted to practice all he could before making his bid as a major league pitcher the next spring, and after seven futile years as a first baseman, they both figured he had a lot of catching up to do.

Thursday, he caught up with the record book.

Only twice since 1900 had major league pitchers battled each other with one-hitter in one game. Thursday, the third such game went into the books—and Harshman won it 1-0 for the Chicago White Sox against Baltimore's Connie Johnson and George Zuverink.

The victory left the second place Sox five games behind the American League leading New York Yankees, who open a four-game series in Chicago's Comiskey Park tonight after an open date Thursday. In Thursday's other games Cleveland beat Boston and Tom Brewer's jinx 5-0 behind Early Wynn's four-hitter, and Kansas City slammed Washington back into the cellar 15-6.

In the National, Milwaukee's Braves won their sixth straight under new Manager Fred Haney and retained first place with a 7-2 job on Pittsburgh's slumping Pirates. Brooklyn held on to second in the only other game played, beating St. Louis 9-8 as Roy Campanella hit a pair of three-run homers, his second tying it in a winning four-run ninth inning rally with two out.

Rain postponed Chicago at New York in the only other game scheduled.

Harshman, a three-time loser as a first baseman with the New York Giants, has won only four of eight decisions with the White Sox this season. But three have been beats. He beat Cleveland and Herb Score 1-0 in a double two-hitter in his first start April 19, and he beat Washington 7-0 on four hits June 16. He gave seven hits in the other victory, edging Baltimore 3-2.

The only hit the 28-year-old southpaw allowed Thursday was a seventh-inning double by Gus Triandos. But Harshman, who has a string of 20 scoreless innings going, nailed him at third after fielding Hal Smith's attempted sacrifice.

In all, Harshman—who was 14-8 and fanned 16 in one game in his 1954 debut with the White Sox, and 11-7 last season—faced 32 men, walking four and striking out four.

The only White Sox hit off Johnson, who went to Baltimore from Chicago last month, was a first-inning double by Nellie Fox. But it followed a leadoff walk to Jim Rivera, who then stole second. Johnson, who fanned seven, was

Stan Musial Gives Hint Of Quitting Game

NEW YORK (AP)—A combination of circumstances has discouraged Stan Musial to such an extent that he seriously is thinking of quitting baseball at the end of the season.

Although the St. Louis Cardinals' all-time great would not comment it has been learned from present and former teammates that the National League's greatest player of his generation is depressed over recent events ranging from the trading of his closest friend Red Schoendienst to his shift from the outfield to first base.

Another major hurt, it has been learned, stemmed from reports prior to the June 15 trading deadline of a player transaction between the Cardinals and Philadelphia involving Musial and Robin Roberts, the Phillies' ace.

This has been denied by Frank Lane, Cardinals' dynamic general manager. Lane, who has a reputation for truthfulness and integrity, undoubtedly made no serious effort to peddle St. Louis' No. 1 citizen but those rumors have made Musial feel insecure for the first time in his long tenure with the Cardinals.

One who knows this modest star well said when Stan first read the report in a St. Louis paper of the possibility of his being traded, Musial became noticeably upset. It was not until the trading deadline had passed that he became his usual relaxed self.

Trumbull County Tennis Test OK'd

CINCINNATI (AP)—The Western Tennis Assn., has approved the Trumbull County open tennis tournament to be held in Warren, July 18-22.

The tournament will include both men's and women's singles and doubles.

lifted for a pinch-hitter in the eighth.

It was the first double one-hitter since Bobby Cain and the St. Louis Browns—Baltimore's predecessors in the AL—beat Bob Feller and Cleveland 1-0 April 23, 1952. The winning run was scored in the first inning of that one, too, with Marty Marion, now White Sox field boss, driving it in.

Akron Executive Leading Seniors

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—J. B. Bixler, an Akron rubber executive, paced the field into the final day of the Western Senior Golf Tournament today, despite six opening-round bogies.

The 55-year-old Bixler, a youngster in the tournament for golfers 52 and over, erased four of his over-par holes with birds on a pair of six-foot putts and decues on two short holes for a 72.

Former Western senior winner J. Clark Espie of Indianapolis was one stroke behind Bixler.

Rescheduled Tilts Set For Tonight

Two rained-out kid baseball games at Ted Lewis Park have been rescheduled for today.

At 6 p. m., Purina will meet Eshelman's in the Mosquito League and the Elks will take on Derby in the Circleville Babe Ruth League.

Famed Trotter Stenographer Retired; To Be Brood Mare

COLUMBUS—The racing career of one of America's gamest and fastest trotting mares came to an end when owner Max Hempt of Mechanicsburg, Pa., announced after the racing of the American Trotting Championship that he was retiring Stenographer and would breed her immediately to the great stallion Hoot Mon.

"I said a long time ago," Hempt reported, "that when it became obvious that she wasn't herself on the race track I would immediately remove her from competition. She was too fine and honest a mare to cheapen by continuing to race her when she wasn't herself."

Stenographer finished back in the pack in the Trotting Championships last week and it was reported afterward that she was suffering from a sore heel, an ailment that has been giving her trouble, off and on, for a couple of months.

Several weeks ago Hempt and trainer Del Miller were about to quit on the daughter of Bill Gallon but she surprised them by whipping a field of free-for-allers at Rosecroft Raceway in Maryland. It appeared then the lameness had been overcome. It proved a false conclusion, however, and the decision to retire her was reached.

Stenographer was at her peak as a 3-year-old in 1954 when she was named Harness Horse of the Year despite being the defeated favorite in the year's richest race, the $106,830 Hambletonian won by Newport Dream.

Stenographer won 23 of 32 starts that year with two seconds and one third. She also sizzled to six world's records, all of which are still standing. She won $154,750 during her career and ranks fourth on the list of leading money winning trotting mares.

She retires as the co-world's champion 2-year-old trotting filly (2:01); world's champion 3-year-old trotting filly (1:59.1) and world's champion 3-year-old trotting filly on a half mile track (2:03.4). She also holds several other records.

Although it is late in the breeding season, it is still highly possible that Stenographer will conceive this year to her mating with Hoot Mon. The $5,000 service to the Hanover Shoe Farm stallion was reserved last year in the event it became necessary to retire her.

COLUMBUS (AP)—Connie Brewer, owned and driven by Porter Martin of Circleville, paced a slow track in 2:12.4 to win the Classified Pace sixth event at Hilliards Raceway last night.

Peggy Barnes, driven by Al Hudson of Terre Haute, Ind., won the featured seventh race.

The race card attracted 2,615 who wagered a total of $65,983.

women pros going into the second round of the Ladies PGA.

In second place, with 71, is veteran Patty Berg of St. Andrews, Ill., who would rather win this tournament above all others. The LPGA crown is the only one that has escaped the redhaired shot-maker.

The 72-hole medal play duel will continue through Sunday.

Tribe Hopes To Gain In Senator Test

CLEVELAND (AP)—While the New York Yankees are battling second place Chicago, the Cleveland Indians hope to gain some ground in a four-game series with Washington starting tonight.

The Indians bounced back from a six-game losing streak by sweeping a three game series from Boston, winning the final game 5-0 yesterday on Early Wynn's four hitter.

Mike Garcia, who shut the Nats out on seven hits last June 4, is scheduled to pitch tonight. He will face Chuck Stobbs, making his first appearance of the season against Cleveland.

Stobbs lost his only start against the Indians last season, lost two games in relief, and won one in relief.

The Indians ended a jinx yesterday, beating young Tom Brewer, Boston righthander who had won seven in a row from the Tribe. Brewer left for a hitter in the fifth inning, after giving up five runs.

The Indians scored four in the third on singles by Bob Avila, Al Smith, Vic Wertz and Chico Carrasquel, a walk and a wild pitch.

Gene Woodling homered in the fourth inning, his second in as many days.

There was only one solid hit off Wynn, a single to center by Jackie Jensen. Jim Piersall beat out two bunts, and Ted Williams pushed a single to left against the shift, with shortstop Carrasquel playing on the first base side of second.

Indian Manager Al Lopez was pleased with the sweep of the Boston series.

IT WOULD stand to reason that automobiles selling in the same league, so to speak, would be pretty close in their engineering specifications.

Like in "torque multiplication"—the twisting force a transmission delivers to the drive shaft. (The greater the torque multiplication, the greater the performance).

But what do you find?

You find that any '56 Buick with advanced new Variable Pitch Dynaflo* delivers a higher torque ratio than any standard-production car in America.

AIR CONDITIONING

at a COOL NEW LOW PRICE

It cools, filters, dehumidifies.

Get 4-Season Comfort in your new Buick with genuine

FRIGIDAIRE CONDITIONING

And you find that this high-torque performance is one reason for Buick's best-seller standing. For Buick is now more strongly positioned in the Top 3 of the nation's biggest-selling automobiles.

That's news—and there's plenty more where that came from. For the '56 Buick is jam-packed with new engineering and styling advances to make it the best Buick yet, by far.

That new Dynaflo, for example, brings you the world's only switch-pitch performance in cars—plus a new part-throttle getaway response that's swifter, surer, and a gas-saver to boot.

The new V8 engine is 322-cubic-inches

big, and packed with the highest horsepower, the highest compressions in all Buick annals.

There's a joyous new ride, too—a new steering magic—a new "sense of direction" in your every handling maneuver.

Thing to do is come see for yourself. That way you can also look at the prices that have helped move Buick to a new sales success—outselling all other cars in America except two of the well-known smaller ones.

Will you do that, this week?

Love Is Rated Big Factor In Dog's Long Life

Survey Made Among Pets 17 Or Older

Researchers Claim That Age Equals Human Century Mark

Pickaway County dog owners who hope their pets live to a mellow old age have been given an authoritative tip by one of the nation's best known dog organizations.

The Gaines Dog Research Center of New York says the important thing is to develop a "sense of security" in your pet. The center said it based the theory on a survey taken among the owners of "canine centenarians."

Assuming that 17 years of age in a dog is the equivalent of 100 in a human being, the center mailed questionnaires to 500 persons who had previously indicated that they owned dogs of that age or older.

In the tabulation of answers received it was revealed that owners most often attributed their dogs' advanced age to affection and understanding and a close relationship with the family.

GOOD nutrition was considered next in importance, the dog having received proper foods, with no overfeeding, and plenty of fresh water to drink. Health care, early recognition of ailments and prompt veterinary treatment rated third in importance.

However, the average "canine centenarian" has never been hospitalized, except for spaying, unless he became careless about automobiles or dog fights.

Most of the dogs led sheltered lives, adds the center, 81.2 percent being described as house dogs. In the majority of cases there have been children in the family.

Nearly all of the dogs have lived closely with the family, two out of three customarily sleeping in the family's house. Over half of the dogs have accompanied their owners on travels.

Another contributing factor was the "way of life" in that the dogs always had warm, dry shelter, and regular exercise, although only 18.2 percent of the owners would call it vigorous.

Of all the dogs in the survey, nearly 60 percent are of mixed breeding, 38.1 percent being purebred. Five out of eight are male. Most of the dogs are small size and more have short hair than long hair.

THE pure-breeds are mostly Fox Terriers, Cocker Spaniels, Dachshunds, Pekingese and Pomeranians. Many of the "canine centenarians" have performed some kind of duty during their lifetime, such as being home guardians, hunting dogs, farm dogs and "rodent killers." Over two-thirds are still fairly active.

Of those which are not, activities ceased after they reached the age of 16. The average age of the canine centenarian is 18. The oldest dog in the survey was 26 years old.

Good or fair eyesight was reported in 70.5 percent; nearly 44 percent have good or fair hearing; and 68.3 percent good or fair teeth, with 64 percent never having had any teeth extracted. In most cases the coats of the "canine centenarians" are still sleek and luxurious.

Modern Wives Overwork Husbands Says Out-Spoken Woman, Near 80

LEVITTOWN, Pa. (P)—An outspoken woman with the iron of self-reliance in her blood says that many a modern American husband dies too soon because his wife saddles him with endless household tasks.

"Young wives are killing their husbands by expecting them to do too much work when they get home from their jobs," declared Mrs. Agnes Ferguson Murdoch who is "going on 80."

"And it's all done in the name of cooperation!"

"All this talk you hear these days about cooperation, which really means things like the husband taking over the children as soon as he walks in the door, pitching in on a lot of housework, and all the rest of it. Oh, it's all so familiar, as the men know."

Mrs. Murdoch reared six children of her own and had a big hand in the upbringing of three stepchildren besides. For most of the 44 years of her married life she took care of a 15-room house with little outside help.

What's more, she thrived on it. Not many would guess that she's crowding 80, nor question her proud boast of "grand" health.

Her husband Alexander has done all right too. He's a sunny, pink-cheeked, eye-twinkling 91.

On the subject of what she calls men's rights, Mrs. Murdoch said:

"I think a husband deserves a chance to relax when he gets home after working all day. And I believe wives are pushing their husbands into heart attacks by demanding too much of them."

As Mrs. Murdoch sees it, too many modern women fall victim to self-pity, and self-pity leads to general flabbiness of mind and spirit.

"I managed fine," she said, "even if we didn't have the benefit of all these automatic appliances and other labor-saving gadgets, to say nothing of synthetic fabrics and goods you don't even have to iron."

"We mothers didn't have kaffe klatches as I believe the daily habit now is called. We didn't have time. But I did take about an hour each day to rest and to be alone just to think."

Presbyterians Delete UMT Policy Plank

WOOSTER, Ohio (P)—The Ohio Presbyterian Synod voted 55-24 Thursday to strike out of its social education policy this sentence:

"We express opposition to legislation calling for a program of universal military training."

The amendment eliminating the sentence was offered by a Cincinnati elder, Porter P. Lowry, who is a retired Army officer. He contended that universal military training has been defeated and is a dead issue.

Lowry also offered an amendment to strike out a statement calling attention to the fact that in the national budget military items are far higher than appropriation for technical assistance and economic aid. This amendment was defeated.

Another section of the report commended the church's General Assembly and those churches which "have officially adopted a policy eliminating the barrier of racial segregation and discrimination."

Rev. Duffy said several predominantly Negro churches in Ohio have accepted white members, but he added that some Negroes prefer separation.

American business spends about nine billion dollars a year on advertising.

OSU Trustees Set To Pick New Prexy At Monday Parley

COLUMBUS, Ohio (P)—Board Chairman Forest C. Ketter of the Ohio State University Board of trustees says the board will take "definite action" at a special meeting Monday to select a successor to retiring OSU President Howard L. Bevis.

The special meeting was called at the conclusion of the regular meeting June 11 to take up what one board member called "unfished business."

More than 100 names have been considered by a screening committee which made its final recommendations to the board more than a week ago. Because the trustees wished to avoid embarrassing the candidates, their names were kept secret.

Bevis, the university's seventh president, plans to retire June 30 at the age of 70.

New Methodist Seminary Eyed

LAKEVIEW (P)—A drive to raise $4 million for a Methodist seminary in Ohio at a location still to be decided is likely to start before the year is out.

Two million dollars would be for buildings, and two million for endowment of the seminary which the Methodists hope to get into operation in 1961.

A provisional organization made up of representatives from Ohio and five other areas will be constituted in Columbus June 28 at a meeting of the Ohio Area cabinet. This organization will handle the fund-raising program.

Boy's Long Journey Ended Abruptly

MARIETTA (P)—Six-year-old Andrew Grayson has lots of friends. Trouble is, they're all back in Zanesville.

Andrew moved to Marietta only recently. Tuesday, he and his little bicycle started the 63-mile trek "home."

Ten miles and six hours later, a police patrol car found the weary little boy near Lowell and hauled him back to Marietta.

He Will Find Cost Bit More Than $3

ROME, N.Y. (P)—A motorist who wrote a note on a $1 parking ticket he paid needs a briefing on the cost of living.

The note read: "I got this ticket while getting a ($2) marriage license. Guess a wife cost me $3."

Marlon Brando Gives Views On U.S. Relations In Asia

HOLLYWOOD (P)—"I found so much to stimulate me that I couldn't begin to tell about it in one conversation."

This was a serious, thoughtful Marlon Brando talking about his recent journey to the Orient. He went there (1) to do research for a film about the United Nations he plans to produce; and (2) to film location scenes of "Teahouse of the August Moon." Here are some of his observations:

"Americans don't even begin to understand the people of Asia. The average American couldn't tell you even three of the five main bodies of land that comprise Indonesia, what the capital is, what the natives' attitude toward the Dutch is..."

"American prestige is dwindling among the free countries of Asia while the great masses of China and Russia are waiting to gobble them up. Our understanding of Asians will never improve until we get out of the habit of thinking of the people as short, spindly-legged, bucktoothed little people with strange customs..."

Police And Fire Agencies Halve

FREMONT (P)—Expecting a deficit because a city income tax has been held up, Mayor John M. Collins yesterday ordered the police department cut from 22 to 11 men, the same cut in the fire department, and a reduction from five to three in the parks department.

He said $6,000 a month would be saved. A petition was filed Wednesday calling for a referendum in the November election on an income tax of one-half of one percent.

Ohio Debate Team Hits Semifinals

MUSKOGEE, Okla. (P)—A debate team from Louisville, Ohio, went into the semifinals today against four other teams in the National Forensic League Tournament.

A Louisville girl was among the individual finalists Thursday. She is Anna Mae Shank, a finalist in girls extemporaneous speaking.

Rebuilding Planned

YOUNGSTOWN (P)—St. Columba's Cathedral, destroyed by fire Sept. 2, 1954, will be rebuilt at a cost of about $1,750,000, Bishop Emmet M. Walsh of the Youngstown Roman Catholic Diocese has announced.

School Teacher's Hearing Recessed

McCONNELLSVILLE (P)—The school board hearing for ousted high school teacher Jack W. Eberle, 25, was recessed until June 29 following testimony yesterday by a fellow teacher that it was she who advised Eberle to paddle five girl students as a disciplinary measure.

Mrs. Nellie Marshall, an instructor at Homer-Union District High School in Morgan County, and Eberle's McConnellsville landlady, testified:

"I told Mr. Eberle that if it was me, I would get a paddle and go to work on them."

37th Division Increase Asked

WASHINGTON (P)—Maj. Gen. Leo M. Kreber, commander of Ohio's 37th Division, National Guard, wants to raise the division's strength by 2,100 men next year and has the backing of Ohio's Sen. John W. Bricker.

Those facts were released by a Senate committee recommending 1957 defense spending.

The general is quoted in the testimony as expressing "grave concern" over the 407,000-man ceiling on nationwide Guard manpower for fiscal 1957.

He said the Ohio Guard plans five battalions of anti-aircraft artillery for "on-site protection of the Cleveland-Youngstown area."

New Turnpike Rates Slated For Monday

COLUMBUS (P)—New toll rates for trucks go into effect on the Ohio Turnpike at 12:01 a. m. Monday, the Turnpike Commission announced yesterday.

Leavittsburg Man, 37, Enraged After Argument With Frightened Wife

WARREN — A 37-year-old truck driver, going berserk after a quarrel with his wife, last night shot and killed his two sisters-in-law and a teenage girl he didn't know.

Another man was wounded, but escaped, as the truck driver sped over a rural area here in an automobile to gun down his victims in three separate locations.

The body of the girl, kidnapped where she was sitting with two boys in a parked car, was found today in a ditch along a lonely road northwest of here.

A manhunt for the trucker, Alfred Wilson of nearby Leavittsburg, centered in an area near Windham, about 15 miles west of here, after Wilson's 1949 automobile was found abandoned along a county road.

Deputies said they found a luger holster, an empty bullet clip and a scribbled note on the car seat.

The note, unsigned, said: "Wanted to get you, Juanita (Wilson's wife). Sorry for what I have done. Say goodbye to the kids. Hope to meet you in the other world."

ALL OVER OHIO and in neighboring states, authorities were alerted to be on the lookout for Wilson.

Dep. Sheriff Harry Crozier identified Wilson and said he was armed with a pistol.

Crozier said Wilson went berserk after driving to the home of a sister-in-law, Mrs. Geraldine Brown, 30, of Leavittsburg, to see his wife who was staying there.

Wilson's wife saw him coming, backed up the house and then locked herself and her children in the bathroom, Crozier said.

But the sister-in-law walked into the living room from a bedroom and was shot and killed by Wilson, who fired through a window in the front door.

From there, Crozier said, Wilson's path led to a nearby road.

Federal Aides Keep Eye On Steel Parley

WASHINGTON — Government officials today privately expressed increasing concern over the possibility of a steel strike but said, for the time being, they intended to keep out of the bargaining.

However, it was reported that if the industry and Steelworkers Union still are stuck in their present stalemate by the middle of next week the government may take a new look at the advisability of intervening.

A strike is feared by administration officials not only because it would upset the economy but also because it would present delicate labor problems for decision in a campaign year.

Should a walkout come, President Eisenhower presumably would have to consider invoking the national emergency provisions of the Taft-Hartley law. This could lead to an 80-day court injunction against continuing the walkout and possibly postpone a showdown election.

Officials see no likelihood that Eisenhower will invoke the T-H Act before the expiration of the present steel contract June 30.

The United Steelworkers Union's contract expires at that time, and the union sent notices to its locals yesterday to prepare for a strike on that date if no agreement is reached.

District Mailmen Win Safety Honor

No Accidents Listed Past Year; 3 Circleville Drivers Get Awards

Circleville Postmaster Charles Walters announced today this city's first class postoffice is the only one in the Ohio-Indiana-Kentucky postal district to go through the past year without a traffic accident.

As a result, three well-known postal drivers here have been given high recognition.

Walters' statement was made in regard to a second "Special Citation for Contributions to Highway Safety" in 1955, which will be awarded to the United States Post Office Department by the National Safety Council.

The postmaster praised the three local drivers, who received medals from the Post Office Department for their part in making the highway safety program successful.

RURAL carriers, Warren Baker, with 34 years service of accident-free driving and Bill Betts, with 15 years of safe driving, received special recognition medals.

Willis Green was presented a similar citation for 10 years of driving without an accident.

Walters said he feels the fine traffic record of the local office for the past year has been due, in part, to the driver-training program in effect at the Circleville office.

Each month, all drivers receive one hour of training to stress basic driving rules, safety measures and care of vehicle equipment.

At Washington, D. C., Postmaster General Arthur Summerfield accepted the National Safety Council's citation "on behalf of thousands of postal people who have led and stimulated local safety programs for postal vehicles over the nation."

"The Post Office Department a few years ago had one of the worst traffic accident records in the entire federal Government," Summerfield recalled, in commenting on the award. "In 1955, the Department initiated its first intensive safety program, which included safe driving instructions, as well as driver examination and physical reaction tests."

"As part of this program, the department's first Safety and Health Division in the Bureau of Personnel was activated and staffed with experts in industrial safety, health, motor vehicle and traffic safety."

"THIS NATIONAL Safety Council Citation for 1955—the second consecutive annual award of this type to be received by the Post Office Department as a result of its new Safety Program—symbolizes a major achievement in the saving of lives and property."

Typical of the Post Office Department's safety accomplishments in 1955, accidents involving postal vehicles nationwide were reduced from 13 to 4 per 100,000 miles driven in metropolitan areas, Summerfield noted.

The enthusiasm with which all postal people have accepted the Safe Driving program, Summerfield added, "has been a primary factor in this second special traffic safety citation being awarded to the Postal Service."

Even Sen. Ellender (D-La.), who is opposing both Democratic and Republican moves to boost air funds, said "Secretary Wilson talks too much."

After the "phony" remark came out, Wilson apparently felt it may have been too strong. "Well, maybe I shouldn't have said it," he remarked.

However, he added he "would just like to see the people that vote for the expenditure, vote for the taxes to produce the money to pay for it, the same people, stand up and be counted."

In Washington, some 30 miles to the northeast, the Senate yesterday took up a defense money bill totaling $34.9 billion. Debate on the measure was suspended today to allow consideration of a bill to extend the Defense Production Act. Voting on the defense bill is expected next week.

WILSON'S "phony" comment was aimed at a Senate Appropriations Committee recommendation to add $1.1 billion to President Eisenhower's budget requests for more warplanes, airmen and bases. Asked about a compromise proposal by Sen. Bridges (R-NH) to limit the increase to $500 million, Wilson said: "I look at it the same way."

$35.1 Million Due Ohio For Roads

WASHINGTON — The compromise highway construction bill expected to be sent to President Eisenhower next week will make $35.1 million in federal funds available to Ohio June 30.

This includes $7.4 million for interstate highways, to be distributed on a 90-10 matching basis, and for other highway construction (all on a 50-50 matching basis) $11 million for primary roads, $6.7 million for secondary and $10 million for urban.

The apportionments for fiscal 1957, 1958 and 1959, listed in that order, for Ohio: Interstate $50,200,000, 72,800,000 and 85,600,000; 8,200,000, 8,400,000; urban $11,800,000.

Funeral services will be held here at 2 p. m. Monday.

Veteran Wilmington Printer Is Dead

He is survived by his wife, two sons, five grandchildren, his mother, two sisters and two half-sisters.

Capitol Building May Be Searched

Senator's Office Given Check For Wiretap Gear; He's Insulted

WASHINGTON — An electronic search of the entire Capitol for wiretapping and secret recording equipment became a possibility today in the wake of a security inspection of one senator's office.

The office to which Defense Department agents went uninvited was part of the suite of Sen. Lehman (D-NY). It adjoins a hearing room in which other senators have been receiving secret military information.

The agents found nothing wrong. But their search, aided by Capitol police, touched off a Senate furor yesterday that pushed aside debate on a $35 billion defense appropriation bill.

Lehman, who protested what he called "careless snooping," was promised apologies from the Defense Department, Sen. Symington's (D-Mo) Special Armed Services subcommittee occupying the room adjoining his office, and, through Majority Leader Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex), the entire Senate.

Sen. Douglas (D-Ill) called on the Senate to hire "experts in electronic devices" to check whether snoopers are tapping telephones of senators or planting microphones in hearing rooms.

Sen. Green (D-R), chairman of the Senate Rules Committee which would pass first on such investigation, was out of the city. But committee attaches started looking into the matter.

Johnson said that the incident was "outrageous" and "typical bureaucratic stupidity," that he viewed it with "utter horror" and that he had asked the Capitol police force for a report on their part in the affair.

Sen. Capehart (R-Ind) called the affair "a lot of political baloney."

Symington called a quick meeting of his group after Lehman protested the "methods used" in the unusual security check. Testimony developed

Do you know the responsibility placed on the canner and grocer under the Uniform Sales Act and Pure Food and Drug Act of Ohio?

How much do you know about the Financial Responsibility Law affecting motorists?

To what extent must a spectator at a public event assume a risk without having grounds for suit?

When is it possible to collect damages when you fall on the street or in some other public location?

THESE AND A long list of other questions involving the fine points of law will be the subject of a series of articles soon to start in The Herald. The problems discussed in the series, "It's The Law," will be of the kind that could suddenly become vitally important to you or members of your family. And the articles are written for the average reader—free of the complicated phraseology which, of necessity, often goes with interpretations of the law.

The authoritative articles have been prepared for publication by the Pickaway County Bar Association, and The Herald will publish them as a public service to the community.

British Fine Greek Town $98,000

NICOSIA, Cyprus — British authorities imposed a collective fine of $98,000 on the Greek Cypriot community of Limassol today.

Since the beginning of this year there have been six assassinations in the town, 10 persons have been wounded in attempted assassinations and there have been 70 bomb incidents.

"The perpetrators of some of the more serious crimes escaped through the failure of Greek Cypriot onlookers to assist in their capture," the British said.

'Radio Signal' From Venus Heard Again

COLUMBUS — New "radio signals" which presumably originate on Venus" were reported today by an Ohio State University radio astronomer.

The findings were made by Dr. John D. Kraus, director of the university's radio observatory. Earlier this month, Dr. Kraus reported radio signals resembling static from terrestrial thunderstorms were received from the planet Venus, sometimes referred to as earth's "twin."

The astronomer said the new signals, of a distinctly different type, resemble radio telegraphy in many ways.

"Whatever phenomenon is responsible for the signals must be of rather complex type," Dr. Kraus said.

This type of radio remission has "many of the characteristics of signals from a terrestrial radio telegraph transmitting station," he said.

Sufficiently numerous and varied observations of the signals have been made to make it appear very likely that they do come from Venus, Dr. Kraus added.

U. S. Reds OK'd For Social Security Aid

WASHINGTON — A referee of the Social Security Administration ruled today that employment by the Communist party in the United States is covered under the Social Security Act.

Today's decision by Referee Peter J. Hoegen is subject to possible review by the appeals council of the Welfare Department.

Hoegen made the ruling in cases involving seven Communist party employees whose eligibility for social security benefits has been under review.

The seven involved in the appeals heard in New York were: William Z. Foster, national chairman of the Communist party; Charles A. Dirba; Alfred Wagenknecht; Mrs. Saide V. Amter, widow of a former employee of the party; Jacob Mindel; Bittelman.

In his decision, Hoegen said the sole question in determining social security coverage in those cases was whether an actual employer-employee relationship existed between the wage earners involved and the Soviet Union.

He concluded the evidence before him was insufficient to determine "whether the Communist Party, U. S. A., is a creature or instrumentality of the Soviet Union, the Russian Communist party, or the Communist International, although it is clear that it is dominated by alien elements abroad, and that it is conspiratorial in character."

Liquor Chief Ready To Clean Out Pinballs

Bryant Says Gadgets In Same Category As Old Slot Machines

COLUMBUS — A combination of two recent court decisions has given Ohio Liquor Director William C. Bryant most of the weapons he seeks to wage a war of extermination against pinball machines in taverns.

"The bell has sounded," says Bryant. "Now it's time for school to take up. Pinball machines are now in the same legal category as slot machines and under that law a person is subject to a felony prosecution if he simply has the handle of a slot machine in his attic."

Both Gov. Frank J. Lausche and Atty. Gen. C. William O'Neill hailed the double-barreled blast from the courts at pinball.

But until and unless a temporary injunction which bars liquor officials from making any moves against gambling devices is dissolved, the whole burden of enforcing court decisions against pinball machines rests with local authorities.

The first decision came from the Ohio Supreme Court a couple of weeks ago. It held pinball machines which offer free games for high scores are gambling devices under the anti-slot machine law.

THEN THE SECOND District Court of Appeals followed up that decision this week by directing the Franklin County common pleas court to take a second look at its order which bars the State Liquor Board from suspending the permit of a tavern in which a pinball machine was found.

The appellate court cited the Supreme Court's decision and sent the permit-suspension case back to common pleas court for further action. The appellate court disagreed with the order issued by Common Pleas Judge Ralph J. Bartlett and held that:

1. The Board of Liquor Control has authority to prohibit gambling on the premises of liquor permit holders and has the right to suspend or revoke permits for violations of the no-gambling rule.

2. The pinball machine "and similarly constructed and operated mechanisms" is "a mechanical device within the meaning and contemplation of section 2915.16 of the Revised Code of Ohio (the anti-slots law), the use of which upon a permit premises is a violation" of the board's anti-gambling rule.

3. A pinball machine is a gambling device within the meaning of the board's no-gambling rule. Only the measure of the common pleas court order prohibiting liquor agents from confiscating pinball machines found in taverns remains as a roadblock, Bryant says, adding:

"Then we will be in a position to proceed."

A spokesman said today discussions had been started as to whether the time is approaching when the priority group should be broadened from the currently recommended 6 through 14 ages.

The present DuPont plant already represents an investment of more than $10 million.

"POTATO CHIP FOUND IN FAT MAN'S HIP POCKET"

Dieting is now the nation's fifth most popular hobby. It comes right between Canasta and Gin and Tonic (with a twist of lime). Of course being overweight by a mere forty or fifty pounds isn't so terrible if you're already married, but in case you want to throw a little less shade, here is the latest Schweine-Kittzen Scientific Weight Control Diet. Ready? Okay. For breakfast you have one glass of water. Not ordinary water—skimmed water. For lunch you are allowed to splurge a little. You can have a heaping glass of water. And for dinner you have artificial respiration. The best thing about this diet is that if you stay on it for two weeks and don't lose any weight, it won't matter because you'll never know about it.

where Emmitt Dennison, 42, of Warren, was driving with a 10-year-old son of Wilson.

The deputy said Wilson forced Dennison's car off the road, shot him in the upper forearm and then started to beat him when the injured man struggled into a field, Dennison told officers he managed to escape.

The boy fled on foot and was found later, unharmed.

Dennison described himself as a friend of the Wilson family.

Wilson's next stop was at the home of another sister-in-law, Mrs. Hazel Botts, 33, killed by two bullets fired through the door of her home in nearby Cortland.

TWO BOYS, Arthur Johnson and Thomas Heidelberg, both 17, told the details of the girl being kidnapped from the parked car.

They said they were sitting in the car with Nancy Worthington, 16, of Leavittsburg, when another car pulled up and a man got out.

They said the man drew his gun, forced them to walk down the road and then forced the girl into his car and sped off.

Today, deputies searching the area found the body of Miss Worthington in a ditch near Windham, several miles away.

Another deputy sheriff, Joseph Murphy, said today Wilson was released on $300 bond last June 19 after his wife had signed an assault and battery complaint against him.

Murphy quoted Wilson as saying at the time of his release, "This is the last time they'll get me alive."

Deputies said Wilson was driving a 1949 Chevrolet sedan with a cream colored top and a dark blue body. The car was equipped with twin fog lights and two spotlights, and had Cadillac-type fins on the rear fenders.

Wilson's wife, Juanita, was taken to county jail for protection while her husband was at large.

Three County Students Awarded Scholarships To Study Teaching

Three $1,000 scholarship awards were announced for Pickaway County students late Thursday by George D. McDowell, superintendent of county schools.

Applications for state scholarships in elementary teacher education have been granted to the following:
Doris Jane Haughn of Scioto Township School, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Haughn of Ashville Route 2.
Jacqueline Ann Beach of Scioto Township School, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Beach, also of Ashville Route 2.
Lowell Gordon Anderson of Salt-creek Township School, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Anderson of Kingston Route 1.

UNDER TERMS of the scholarship privilege, each of the three will be allowed to select, from a list of approved schools, the college where he or she wants to study for a teaching career. Each student will receive $500 a year for two years, the only stipulation being that class-work standards be maintained.

A cadet teacher certificate will be awarded at the end of the two-year course. Then, if the student teaches for two years, notes of the scholarship will be cancelled. Cancellation will be at the rate of $500 in notes for each year of teaching after completion of the course.

Award of the scholarships has been approved by the State Department of Education.

McDowell explained that the winning students were picked, not only on a basis of high scholastic ability, but also because of all-around qualifications. He said:

"All three of the winners are certainly to be congratulated and have reason to be proud. Their work is sure to inspire others toward the same goal in the future."

McDowell headed the Pickaway County Elementary Teacher Education Scholarship Committee which made the local selections. Other members of the committee were: J. Wray Henry, principal of Circleville High School; Judson Lanman, superintendent at Williamsport, and Mrs. Austin Dowden of Wayne Township, a Circleville teacher.

Ohio Woman Sets 2 Fires In Airliner

CHARLOTTE, N. C. — The mother of a woman who set two small fires aboard a big airliner planned today to come to Charlotte to get her daughter out of jail. Authorities decided they would make no charges.

Charlotte Police Chief Frank M. Littlejohn said Evelyn Mills, 36, of Cleveland admitted setting the harmless fires on an Eastern Air Lines Super Constellation. The plane made an unscheduled landing here yesterday on its Cleveland-Miami flight to discharge Miss Mills. She was jailed for mental examination.

Miss Mills was on her way to visit relatives in Miami. Shortly after the plane took off, Stewardess Helen Rosenthal of New Douglas, Ill., smelled smoke.

"We all looked but could find nothing," she said. About two hours later, over Charlotte, the crew smelled smoke again.

"I went forward and found a pillow beneath this woman's seat was smoldering," Miss Rosenthal said. Later she discovered paper tissues burning in a dispenser in the women's rest room. Co-pilot J. D. Willoughby put out that fire with an extinguisher.

Willoughby said Miss Mills readily admitted setting the fires, adding "I want to get off."

East-Central Ohio Socked By Cloudburst, Flash Flood

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
A cloudburst and flash flood hit parts of east-central Ohio last night. Flood waters up to five feet deep swirled into several communities. Damage was expected to top the $100,000 mark.

One of the hardest-hit communities was Pickerington, a village of fewer than 500 in northern Fairfield County. Between 3 1/2 and 4 inches of rain poured on the village in less than an hour, Pickerington's weather observer, Carlton S. Good, reported.

The entire center of the village which lies in a gorge was damaged. The storm was accompanied by vicious wind and hail. Water flowed five feet over the roadway of the Sycamore Creek bridge at the west side of the village. Normally the stream flows 15 feet below the roadway.

A Grange hall was heavily damaged. Water ran more than four feet deep through the Methodist church.

Licking County and eastern Franklin County were hit almost as heavily. In Licking several motorists were stranded on the roofs of their cars when the flash flood reached a depth of four feet on Reynoldsburg.

Seven highways were closed temporarily. The patrol said high winds in the northern part of Fairfield County knocked down trees and blocked Ohio 256 east of Pickerington.

Other highways closed temporarily were Ohio 661, Ohio 37, and Ohio 161, all in the Granville area, Ohio 79 between Newark and Hebron, Ohio 16 between Columbus and Newark and U.S. 40 between Columbus and Reynoldsburg. All were reopened today.

Four feet of water at one time was reported on Ohio 661 and as much as two feet in numerous places on Ohio 16.

Mrs. Ella Hennis of Reynoldsburg went to her basement at the height of a cloudburst. Water was coming in and she wanted to turn off the gas water heater.

The lights went out. Mrs. Hennis scrambled for the basement door, but she couldn't open it against the force of the rapidly rising water. She found a stove in the darkness and climbed aboard. Then she screamed.

When firemen arrived, Mrs. Hennis was in water up to her armpits. Firemen ripped open a cold-air shaft and pulled her through it to safety.

Ohio Accused Of Violating Civil Rights

Alabama Judge Asks Probe Of Negro Family Sent South 'Forcibly'

LIVINGSTON, Ala. — Civil rights of eight penniless Negro children and a 40-year-old mother were violated when they were "forcibly sent" south from Ohio, says an Alabama judge.

Probate Judge Wilbur Dearman yesterday called for a federal and state investigation of the ruling that sent Mrs. Martha Winston, seven children and a grandchild back to Alabama earlier this month over her protests.

Dearman said after a custody hearing that the facts showed the mother and children were legal residents of Ohio, which should have entitled them to aid there.

Ruling that the mother and children are Ohio citizens, the Sumter County judge said he has no jurisdiction in the case. Meanwhile all are living with the oldest married daughter of Mrs. Winston in Coatspa, Ala.

Mrs. Winston, who had been separated from her husband for five years, went to Cleveland four years ago. She brought the children there last October but couldn't support them.

THE CASE was brought before Cleveland Juvenile Court Judge Albert A. Woldman on a charge that Mrs. Winston was neglecting her children under 16 by keeping them out of school.

The Negro mother said she brought the children to Ohio because she couldn't support them in the South. She also said she "didn't want them to grow up in the South."

Woldman ordered the family placed on a train with instructions to return to Livingston. He ruled that since the children had not lived in Ohio a year they were not eligible for welfare aid.

In Cleveland, Woldman said that he had been told the family received emergency relief for the first three months after it moved to Cleveland and that

Benson, Keef Debate New Farm Program

ELDORA, Iowa — Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Benson, sharing the speakers' platform here today with Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn) said the Eisenhower administration is not running the farm program with a "political applause meter."

Kefauver, a candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination, contended Republicans are bungling the new farm program by administering it in a "timid and reluctant manner."

He estimated farmers would get nearly $2 billion more income this year if the new farm plan was properly administered.

"We have measured our farm policies on the basis of what is good for the farmer and the nation, not on the political applause meter," Secretary Benson said.

Benson said administration policies have brought rising farm prices, expanding markets and reduced surpluses "with emphasis upon freedom for farmers, rather than upon regimentation and controls."

The secretary said this year's new-soil bank program cannot be a full scale operation.

"The real test for this program," Benson said, "will come in 1957, 1958 and 1959 when we can put it fully into operation."

it later was cut off on relief because of its ineligibility.

Dearman said after the hearing that the evidence showed Mrs. Winston "was a citizen of Ohio because she had all the requirements of citizenship including the right to vote." He pointed out that she had lived in Cleveland about five years and also had joined a Baptist church there.

"Under Ohio law as well as Alabama law," said the Alabama judge, "when a father deserts a mother and the mother has taken care of the children, citizenship of the children follows that of the mother."

At the session before the Cleveland judge, a welfare representative told Woldman, "if these people are allowed to remain here, your honor, word will get back to the South and we will be flooded with similar families."

"He said he was playing with a dog and the gun at the same time, and suddenly the gun went off. He was mighty lucky. The wound isn't far more serious."

Denver Area Still Breathless From Its Climb

By SAM DAWSON
DENVER (AP)—This Rocky Mountain area is still a little breathless today from its rapid climb in the last 15 years. And now it is finding something new: Industrialization has tied it closer to the East and to the ups and downs there, from which the Denver area once was fairly remote and insulated.

"If times stay good back East and people there don't lose confidence because of President Eisenhower's illness," a Denver banker says, "we'll do all right out here."

"If payrolls hold up around the country," says a cattleman, "we'll be able to sell our cattle."

"If industrial production in the Midwest and Northeast holds at its present high level," says a mining spokesman, "our mining outlook is okay."

Traditionally Denver has been a distribution center — the biggest place between San Francisco to the west and Kansas City and Omaha to the east, between Dallas and Fort Worth to the south and Canada to the north. As the mid point in this vast area Denver has played wholesaler and broker to a steadily growing economy.

Industrialization is relatively new. Davis Moore, president of the First National Bank of Denver, says that some of the industries came because rising transportation costs and the growth of western population furnished a market that could be supplied cheaper by making products here than by shipping them long distances.

Other plants here make products where freight costs are a large fishing tackle industry—and ship them across the nation.

Some factories here supply parts to eastern manufacturers—one that makes fan belts for autos has felt the pinch of the Detroit automotive slowdown.

But the Denver area has one ace up its sleeve to beat the effects of any national recession, should one develop.

The defense program has been one of the biggest growth items around here. It seems still on the increase, and even in a general downturn this should be a stable industrial economy.

2 Pedestrians Die In City Traffic

COLUMBUS (AP)—Two pedestrians were the victims of fatal accidents here yesterday.

An auto struck and killed 3-year-old Kenneth Holsinger after colliding with a truck at an intersection. Police said the boy apparently was on a corner.

60-Foot Fall Only Scratches Boy, 5

MORGANTON, N.C. (AP)—Five-year-old Gerald David Buff of Glen Alpine fell 60 feet into a dry well and escaped with slight bruises and a minor cut on his chin.

Burke County Sheriff Ray Sigmon said the child fell into the abandoned well while playing with other children. Sigmon said boards covering the well apparently had been removed by the children.

What Is The Church?

Much confusion exists in the minds of people today as to just what the church is. Even religious leaders and preachers are not agreed. Why is this so? Because they haven't gone to the Bible for their answer, but have accepted what uninspired men have said about it. For this and succeeding lessons we shall go to the Bible to find out the nature of the church. Certainly we can agree on the Bible.

SOME THINGS THE CHURCH IS NOT

1. IT IS NOT A MEETING HOUSE OR MATERIAL BUILDING. Paul said that God "dwelleth not in temples made with hands" (Acts 17:24). The elaborateness of the building does not make it more acceptable with God, for which some of us may be thankful. "Fear" can come upon it (Acts 5:11). It has "ears" (Acts 11:22). It is not a temporal building.

2. IT IS NOT A DENOMINATION. The word church is used in two senses in the New Testament: (1) THE UNIVERSAL CHURCH, referring to all the saved on earth (Matt. 16:18); (2) THE LOCAL CHURCH, composed of the saved in any given locality, as "the church of God which is at Corinth" (1 Cor. 1:2). A denomination cannot qualify for either definition. A denomination has been properly defined to be a religious organization smaller than the whole church, but larger than the local church. No denomination claims to have in its fold all the saved. They tell us there are saved people in all denominations. We are further told that the denominations make up the church universal. This we deny! If this were true it would make God the author of confusion because the denominations teach conflicting doctrines and will not fellowship one another as long as these conflicting doctrines are taught. Is the universal church of God out of fellowship with itself? Nay, verily! Furthermore, if denominations make up the one church of Christ where was the church until the denominations came into existence? The truth is it is not a denomination. (More to follow about WHAT IS THE CHURCH).

5 Akron Girls Fitting In OK With New Life As Prisoners

DELAWARE, Ohio (AP)—Five girls hatched a plan last November to escape from the juvenile detention home in Akron.

They overpowered a matron, Mrs. Eula Bonham, beat her and stuffed a rag soaked with ammonia in her mouth. The girls escaped and Mrs. Bonham died.

The girls were captured and the three youngest were sent to the Girls Industrial School near here.

"It's hard to believe the change that has come over three young Akron girls in the 10 weeks they have been in 'prison' for their part in killing the detention home matron," says William D. Schlemmer, reporter for the Akron-Beacon Journal, who interviewed the girls.

"They're settled, they smile and they get along well with the nearly 300 other girls at GIS, Schlemmer says.

"I like it here very much," said Margaret Nicholson, who will be 16 next month. "It's like having a home away from home."

Another of the girls, Mirl Cain, who was 16 last month, said she wants to go home someday. "But not now," she said. "I think I'd rather be here than anywhere else right now. Later I'll start thinking about going home."

The youngest, Shirley Shingler, who won't be 16 until Dec. 22, said "I like it fine here."

The girls live in separate cottages and don't see much of each other.

"I'm different, honest," said Mirl Cain. "I've really learned my lesson. No more trouble now."

Shirley was proud that she was learning to cook and bake.

Girls State Legislation Starts Grind

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Buckeye Girls State delegates started action on their legislative program today after a tour of state officers Thursday gave them some first hand information on the ins and outs of governmental procedure.

Besides legislative activities, today's program includes talks by Judge Charles Zimmerman of the Ohio Supreme Court, Mrs. Constance R. Keller, probate judge of Crawford County, Mrs. Lester M. Merritt, the program's dean of government, Miss Margaret Mahoney, director of the Ohio Department of Industrial Relations, and Ms. Wayne Black, legal assistant to the attorney general.

Thursday's tour of state offices netted Gov. Marilyn Marsh, 17, of Beachwood and some of her 635 constituents some views on running for public office from Gov. Frank J. Lausche.

Gov. Lausche, considered by some a darkhorse in the Democratic presidential nomination race, decried those who are "too anxious" for the nomination.

Ohio's favorite son Democratic candidate said:

"I think one can be too anxious and too avid and when one adopts that attitude he is saying he alone is fit for the job."

The five-term Ohio chief executive alluded to no particular candidate for the Democratic nomination during his informal talk with the delegates.

The eight-day program, sponsored by the American Legion auxiliary, ends Saturday night with the presentation of special awards.

The positions of the stars are commonly computed from a point in the sky known as the vernal equinox.

Margaret described her typical day:

"I get up at 6:15. That's about 15 minutes ahead of the girls who don't do kitchen work."

"We keep busy all morning with breakfast and getting lunch ready. About one we're cleaned up and we have free time. Then at 4:30 we go back for supper and by six we're done for the day."

Two Pickaway County soldiers took part in a two-week amphibious training exercise with the Army's 1st Cavalry Division's 8th Regiment. The maneuvers were on the Pacific island of Iwo Jima.

Among those participating was Army Specialist Second Class Kenneth L. Russell, son of Claude J. Russell of Ashville Route 1, and Pfc. Paul E. Caudy, whose wife, Florence, and father, Cecil G. Caudy, live near Williamsport.

The exercise culminated in a full-scale amphibious assault supported by warships, aircraft and simulated atomic attack.

Both men are regularly stationed at Camp Whittington, Japan. Russell is assigned to a tank company of the regiment, and Caudy is a mechanic with a heavy mortar company.

Russell, 20, entered the Army in October 1953 and arrived in the Far East in April 1954. Caudy, 21, entered the Army in March of last year, and was stationed at Fort Lewis, Wash., before going overseas.

Philip R. Enoch, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Enoch of Circleville Route 1, has been promoted to first lieutenant in the U. S. Air Force.

Lt. Enoch began his military career on June 4, 1955. He completed the officer personnel course at Scott Air Force Base, and currently is working as assistant chief of the career development division, attached to headquarters of the 1st Air Force.

Active in various programs, he won the lead role in the Mitchell Air Force Base theater group's play, "Laura".

Lt. Enoch also writes a column for a base publication and participates in religious activities.

ALTHOUGH A PRISONER, PAUL WAS ABLE TO PREACH CHRIST TO JEWS IN ROME.

Scripture—Acts 27-28.

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL
THE PERILS of sea voyages in Paul's time are vividly described by St. Luke in the last of the book of Acts. Even today, with all modern machinery and safeguards, vessels are still occasionally lost in storms.

Many lives are saved, however, in such disasters by radio messages telling of a vessel in difficulties to nearby ships that rush to its assistance. Small vessels, private yachts and fishing vessels are sometimes lost and men perish when sudden storms assail them and help comes too late.

The ships on which Paul and other prisoners began their journey to Rome met with many storms and were almost lost several times, but thanks to Paul's presence and his advice and courage, the 276 persons on board would have drowned.

His advice was not always taken, although, the voyage would have been less hazardous if it had been. Julius, the Roman centurion in charge of the prisoners, came to trust and admire Paul.

This portion of the lesson should be told briefly but vividly.

of the chief of the island of a serious, near fatal illness. After that the people brought other sick persons to be healed by him. After three months on Melita, "We departed in a ship of Alexandria which had wintered in the isle, whose sign was Castor and Pollux." They landed at Syracuse for three days, then Rhegium, then to Puteoli where they found brethren and tarried seven days, then on to Rome.

Paul had always wished very much to see the great city of Rome. Now he sees it, indeed, but as a prisoner in chains. On the road they were met by brethren who had heard they were coming and went to meet them, for which Paul thanked God and "took courage."

The other prisoners were turned over to the captain of the guard by Julius, the centurion, but Paul was allowed to live in a house by himself with a soldier to guard him. Here Paul called the Jews of the city together, telling them that he had done nothing wrong, and if he had not appealed to Caesar, he would have been free.

Paul asked them what reports they had heard about him, but they answered that, "We neither

MEMORY VERSE
Jesus said: "Ye shall receive power after that the Holy Ghost is come upon ye; and ye shall be witnesses unto Me both in Jerusalem, and in all Judea and in Samaria, and unto the uttermost part of the earth."—Acts 1:8.

to the children, as it will fire their imaginations and interest them greatly. It can be shown them how Paul, through his courage and trust in God, saved not only himself, but all the people on shipboard, who would have cast themselves overboard at the mercy of the rocks and waves but for him.

God sent His angel to tell Paul that not one life would be lost, when they had been so filled with terror that they had not eaten nor moved. He told them to eat for their health's sake, and he set the example, so all ate and their courage returned.

I like particularly the story of the final shipwreck of one of the boats on the island of Melita (thought now to have possibly been Malta), where all swam to shore or rode on pieces of the wrecked vessel until all were saved.

The inhabitants are described as "barbarians" but they were warm hearted people who sheltered and fed the shipwrecked people. They considered Paul a god after he threw a viper off his hand into the fire kindled by wood he had helped gather without harm to him.

Even more sure they must have been when he healed the father received letters out of Judea concerning thee, neither any of the brethren that came shewed or spake any harm of thee."

Then they asked him to tell them what he thought of "this sect," for they knew, they said, "that everywhere it is spoken against."

So Paul appointed a day and many came to his lodging to hear him. As he told them about Jesus and the Holy Ghost, his hearers did not agree. Some believed but many did not. Paul said: that the word spoken by the prophet Isaiah was indeed true: "Go unto this people, and say, Hearing ye shall hear not and seeing ye shall see, and not perceive: for the heart of this people is waxed gross, and their ears are dull of hearing, and their eyes they have closed."

So ends Luke's Book of the Acts of the Apostles. It is indeed a wonderful description of good men who had the courage to spread the gospel of Christ throughout the known world, to Gentiles as well as Jews. They "carried on" in the face of almost certain imprisonment and death. Could Christians today follow their example? Some can and do, but could we do so?

KEEP FEEDER LINES OPEN

SOME OF THE major religious denominations, in annual conferences, estimate the nation will need at least 5,000 additional ministers to fill pastorates of new and expanding churches in the next four years. That is probably a low estimate.

The "back to religion" movement is the real thing. Hundreds of long-established church plants are overcrowded with worshippers today. Church affiliation and support are gaining steadily, the same as manufacturing, science, housing, transportation, education, welfare, road-building, hospitalization, public health and the efforts toward establishing peace on earth.

Where will new ministers come from? For the most part they will come from same basic feeder lines as always — the mother's knee, the home altar, and the Sunday school. Church organizations are striving continuously to keep these feeder lines open.

There have been instances in which men, after reaching adulthood, happily engaged in gainful occupation such as carpentering, salesmanship, railroading and other lines, suddenly turned to the ministry or evangelism for a livelihood, and achieved remarkable success.

That practice may continue among some groups, but the executive authorities of most of the church denominations and organizations today require a person to finish a minimum of seven years of special schooling before being ordained as a minister. And most of these individuals were given their start toward the ministry in the home and in Sunday school.

If 5,000 new ministers are needed to fill pastorates in new and expanding churches in the next four years, they will be forthcoming — and perhaps better trained for the exalted position than many have been in the past. Home training of young people in religious thought and action may have broken down in some degree during the last third of a century, but there is enough left of it to fill the Sunday school rooms in almost every city, town, village and cross-roads neighborhood.

SWAPPING HOUSES

FEDERAL Housing Administration has just announced a plan for more federal aid to home purchase deals which include trade-ins of older dwellings.

Some home buyers in the Washington, D. C., area have tried to persuade home builders to accept old homes as trade-ins. But so far builders there have given a flat "No." However, some think that the house-selling situation there may bring a change of heart by some construction outfits.

What a boon a trade-in proposition would be to the homeowner. Say what you please about car trade-ins, at least the car dealer takes your old clunker off your hands when he sells you the latest model.

That isn't true in the housing game. And many a prospective home buyer has been exasperated and sometimes completely frustrated because he couldn't get rid of his old house.

We can see it now. Calling up a real estate agency and saying, "We'd like to buy a brand new three-bedroom home. We have

These Days

A circular arrived recently which indicates that the Republican National Committee has an "Ethnic Division." I wonder if the Democrats have one too. What is an Ethnic Division? The word, ethnic, would indicate that this division has something to do with ethnology which is the science of the races of man. An Ethnic Division would therefore have something to do with the races of man, their origin and distribution.

A specialist in this field is likely to be someone connected with a university who can tell at a glance to which kind of a race a man belongs, just as a geologist classifies rocks. He would learn something from the language of a race or the day may come when someone will write a learned volume on ethnic foods.

The Republican National Committee has, it is to be assumed from its possession of an Ethnic Division, gone in for the higher culture and abstract and applied sciences, which is better in a way, if it really is so, than Mr. Butler's vulgarisms. Paul Butler being the Chairman of the Democratic National Committee, if you do not already know of this.

The Ethnic Division presumably exists to look after those American citizens who have unfortunately been denominated as minorities since David Niles found a desk and a function in the White House. Prior to 1933, no American regarded himself as belonging to a minority race, but just as a plain American who was entitled to vote on Election Day and usually did if he lived where it was convenient.

There was a time when the Irish were the newcomers in a place like New York or Boston but if anyone called an Irishman an ethnic, he would invite a hard punch on the nose which would be justified on the ground that one voter was as good as another and so's your old man.

Where I lived in the good old days before politics became so scientific, Jews displaced the Irish in population but still accepted Irish political leadership. The Sullivan clan, Big and Little Tim and their numerous relatives, were the leading Democratic politicians and the Republicans did not count because they belonged up-town among the aristocrats who had the dough.

In due course, these aristocrats moved to suburbs where they built glorified mansions for themselves and so the entire city of New York, except for one silk-stocking district, became Democratic, but nobody went ethnic on us because it was generally felt that a vote is a vote no matter who owns it.

So when the Italians displaced the Jews and the Irish went up-town and became as fancy as the Germans and the English, La Guardia became Mayor of New York and he brought in the Puerto Ricans to displace the Negroes who had taken over Harlem from the Irish and the Jews. There was nothing ethnic about this, because between elections nobody worried too much about the ethnic characteristics of a neighborhood, except if anybody had more money than the other fellow, he moved into a better neighborhood, where the houses were newer and the streets cleaner.

Such movements of population were natural and usual until the Depression put a stop to house-building; now we have projects and some are termed "inter-racial" probably to start a row. That is how our big cities grew.

a 20-year-old two-bedroom home that the family has outgrown. Think we can make a deal?"

Middle Age Is Picnic Time

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—There is a disease in middle age that cripples many people.

This disease is cancer of the mind. Its symptoms are an unreasoning discontent with life, a feeling of futility that sears the souls of so many people in their middle years.

Recently a man I have known for years came up and spoke with me. In the midst of a casual conversation he suddenly blurted out:

"Tell me, what do you do when you know for sure you aren't going to go any further? What has a guy got left?"

My friend was deeply depressed. He was suffering from his first onset of "middle age sickness," one sign of which is that a man gets tired of himself and starts thinking he is a human failure.

For the life of me, I couldn't see why, and I told him so. To begin with he was wrong. His job future didn't lie in the past. He hadn't reached his limit of promotion in his field, and his fears that he had gone about as far as he could go were strictly premature.

But even if he had at nearly 50 achieved the top job and income of which he was capable, was that such a disaster?

This man owned his own home and his own car. He had kept his family comfortably fed, sheltered and clothed, and all were healthy. He had educated his two children and both had turned out well. Neither was a cop fighter or a poolroom shark.

By any sensible standard this man was a real success. He had done far better than most men throughout mankind's troubled history, which has been a long search for safety, a full stomach, and a warm place out of the cold to dream in for a while.

Why should it make him either a better or happier man if he should now go on and pile up enough money to become the richest fellow in his part of the cemetery? What if he doesn't ever get a bigger job? Should that make him feel living has lost its luster?

For some reason, although middle age has been in the world for quite some time, it catches most people by surprise.

The middle-aged wife, whose children are grown and flown, is inclined to brood that she has fulfilled her purpose in life and is no longer needed. The middle-aged husband, recognizing it is now highly unlikely he can ever realize the grandiose dreams of his youth, feels himself rudderless.

This "middle age sickness" turns some people crabbed and sour. As any doctor knows, it leads to all sorts of maladies in others. Many even lose all zest for life and shrivel to death, like a flower caught by a late frost.

We are doing a lot of "education for living" nowadays. Why doesn't some philanthropic foundation start a project to teach adults that middle age isn't the critical point of no return in life, but merely another bend in the road and not a bad place to pause and have a picnic?

SYNOPSIS
Priscilla Paige, who is bored with her job in a New York office and unmarried, grasps at an opportunity to escape her humdrum existence when she is notified of an unexpected bequest from a great-aunt, and naturally her imagination is stirred by what follows. Her older, wiser friend, Rita Lambert, accompanies Priscilla on the auto trip to Apalachicola, Fla., to see the principal item in the bequest—an ancient old mansion called Lookout House. The girls learn that the house is "haunted" and has a secret passage. The two decide to remain to appear to be just tourists until they know more about why three different men have taken a curious interest in the place and in them. The men are Bill Duval, who says he is a writer, Red Gallagher, a fisherman, and Luis Alvarez, a wealthy businessman.

In her first visit to the house, Rita finds $500 in brand-new bills on the floor, and Todd, the attorney for the estate, reveals that Alvarez is interested in buying the house.

The local belle, Peggy Pomeroy, is naturally annoyed that Priscilla has attracted the attention of her two best beaux, Dick Craig and Dick Devereaux. Dick Craig, pays a professional call to Priscilla, and now Bill Duval is quaking him.

CHAPTER 12

THE YOUNG doctor said, "Look, Bill, you've been here a couple of weeks. I've asked no questions because I didn't consider that it was any of my business. But you might accomplish more if you took someone into your confidence. I'd like to know what's on your mind about those two girls."

"You may be right, Doc, about my needing a little help. Maybe I'm on the wrong track."

"Are you really a writer?"

"I've been a newspaperman and done some free-lancing, but let's just say writing is not why I'm here. You'll have to trust me for the time being."

"It has something to do with those two girls?"

"Maybe. I hope not. Could you get a date with the younger one and take me along for—Zerita?"

Dick looked at him and laughed.

"You're taking me a little fast. But I find the idea rather appealing. I can try."

As he finished speaking, a shiny black convertible of foreign make slid by, the top down, Alvarez behind the wheel. He was driving slowly, his eyes moving from one side of the street to the other.

"He, too, is on my mind," Bill said, watching. "I'm wondering lately if I'm on his."

"Well, you know why he's here? He contemplates building a hotel. He's a big fisherman, too, and he's speculating."

They watched Luis Alvarez

turn into a parking space across the street and at that moment they saw the green Dodge park alongside, only to back out immediately. The black car also backed out and went in the same direction.

"See what I mean?" said Bill. They watched both cars turn across the long bridge.

"Think I'll follow them," Bill got out of Dick's car. He walked over to his own car and got in. Dick watched him turn toward the bridge. Bill was a nice fellow, there was no doubt about that. Was he a detective? If so, what was he looking for in a small, peaceful town like Apalachicola?

"It's queer, isn't it, Rita?" asked Priscilla. "Our being here, in this darling little cottage. And just across the street, an old house that actually belongs to me. A week ago I wouldn't have thought all this possible."

"You sort of like it, don't you?" Rita smiled at the younger girl.

"I love it. I have a feeling of belonging. If my mother had never gone away, or if she had lived and brought me back here..." Her voice trailed off. A moment later, she said, "Rita, didn't you like Dr. Devereaux?"

"What an abrupt change of subject," Rita said, laughing. "And yes, I liked him. He's so blond and browned and out-of-doors looking. And such white teeth. But don't go getting ideas, Priscilla. You've only seen the man twice. How do you know whether you would like him or not?"

"I know."

"Forget him," Rita advised good-naturedly. "You'll probably never see him again."

"I'm being silly, of course. But I did like him," Priscilla changed the subject. "I suppose we should go over to Lookout House and see if there's anything I'd like to keep."

"And it would probably be wise, too, to go ahead and accept Alvarez's offer. After all, the real estate people and Mr. Todd think it is more than you'll be offered again. And more than the property is actually worth."

"I can't help wondering why he's in such a hurry. Perhaps he'd better meet him at Mr. Todd's office and talk it over."

"You're right, Priscilla. I think tomorrow you should tell Mr. Todd to go ahead and close the deal with Luis Alvarez. Like you, I have a strange feeling about the whole thing, a feeling I can't explain away. But what difference does it make, so long as you get the money? And speaking of money, I'm still disturbed over that five hundred dollars. If no one answers our ad, then I'll turn it over to you."

"No. We'll spend it on the trip," Priscilla added pensively. "Rita, it would be nice, having a little house like this to keep. Oh, a little larger, of course, but a house and a man you're in love with."

"Not still thinking of the young doctor, are you?" Rita teased. She was surprised when Priscilla said seriously, "If I had a chance, I think I could like him. But of course I won't get the chance." She began to talk of something else.

They were both in bed by eleven, and Rita was asleep almost immediately. Priscilla lay quite still in the other bed, hands behind her head, looking out into the still, white night. An indefinable fragrance drifted in on the soft night air. Today had actually been hot, in the eighties.

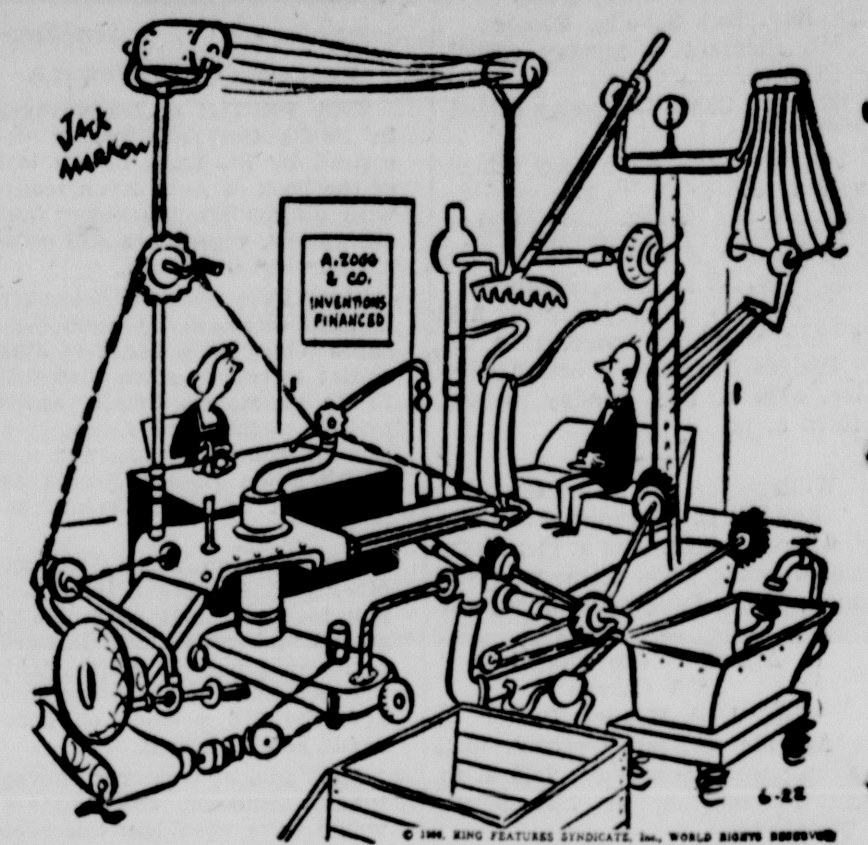

Should she accept the offer from Alvarez? She thought of Dick Devereaux. He had been so nice. She was feeling a little drowsy now, thinking sleep wasn't far away, when suddenly her mind was jerked back to wide-awake. Had a light flashed from an upstairs window in Lookout House? There it was again! Could it be a reflection? But reflection from what? There were no lights in the neighborhood, no cars passing. She got up and went to the window, and it appeared to be the third time—like a signal. It was gone almost immediately. She thought of what Mr. Todd had said about people seeing lights flash there in the night. The house was locked; the gates were locked. Who or what was inside? What did the flashes mean? What about the secret passage?

She watched a little longer, but the light did not appear again. Should she tell Rita? Rita probably would say she was half asleep and dreaming. She would watch tomorrow night and if the light appeared, then she would awaken Rita and let her see for herself. And tomorrow she would start looking for an opening for that secret passage.

DIET AND HEALTH

Don't Let Heavy Jobs Cause Injury To Back

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

THOSE simple summertime chores around the house can be downright dangerous if you don't go about them properly.

Cutting the grass, for example, appears to be an elementary task. It is, too, but you might wind up with an aching back if you use the wrong procedure.

Delicate Parts

Your arms and legs, you realize, are pretty muscular and relatively strong. Your back, however, has numerous delicate parts. It can be easily injured if you let it and not your arms and legs do all the heavy work.

The sacroiliac joints which join the sacrum to the hipbone do not move freely as do your elbows or knees. Violent twisting or anything else which forces them out of position may bring on excruciating sacroiliac pain.

Simple Rules

So, when pushing the lawn mower, don't just dig in and push. I think you'll find you'll take as much strain as possible off your back if you'll follow these four simple rules:

- 1 Keep your back as straight as possible, don't hunch over.
- 2 Lean forward from your ankles, not from your hips.
- 3 Brace your feet to get the maximum power from your legs.
- 4 Push against the ground.

Carrying heavy loads such as

Heavy Objects

The best method of lifting a heavy object from the ground is to squat and take the opposite ends of the bag in your arms. Next, straighten your back and then draw the bag straight up by straightening your legs.

While carrying it, rest the load against your hip and stomach. As for lifting an object that is already on a platform such as the rear end of a truck or the trunk of a car, squat and draw it onto your shoulder. Grab the front end with both hands.

Then rise by straightening your legs. Lean forward and brace the load by placing your hand on your hip.

This should make carrying a lot easier—and safer.

QUESTION AND ANSWER

P. G.: If a woman has been operated on and sterilized, is it possible for her to have another operation so that she can have another baby?

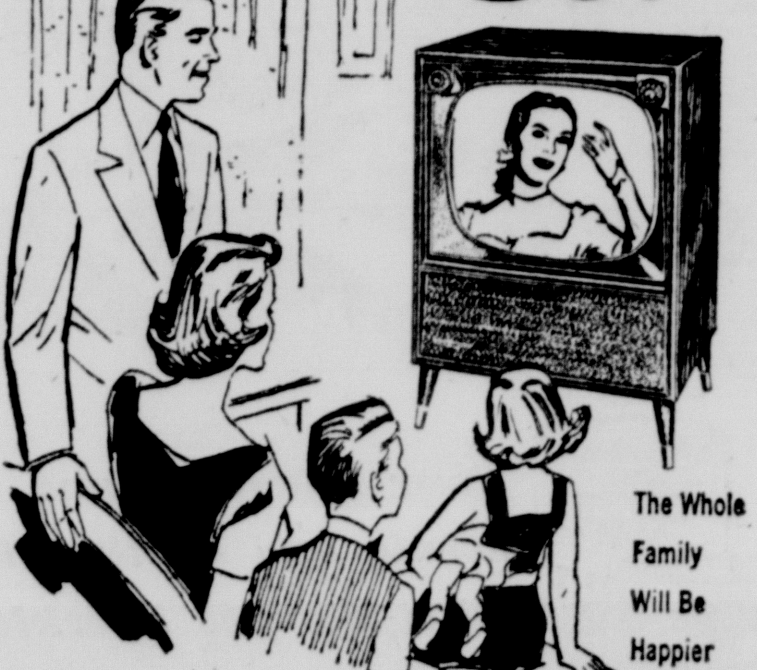

Answer: In most cases an operation to restore the fallopian tubes cannot be carried out. However, in some few instances such restoration of the tubes is sometimes possible.

You might consult with the physician who performed the operation.

Was Mr. Bolt content? Not at all! He flung his bag into a corner of the golf shop and grumbled, "If two puts had sunk like they should have, doggone it, I'd have had a 62!"

"Goodness gracious!" exclaimed Mrs. Periwinkle to a fellow-officer of the temperance society, "This time they really HAVE gone too far! They're distilling whiskey for children!" As proof, she waved aloft an ad whose headline boasted, "The best 12-year-old whiskey in all the world!"

Burlile And Sensenbrenner Wed In Chillicothe Church

Rev. Baker Performs Nuptial Ceremony

Miss Carolyn Sue Burlile and Mr. Robert C. Sensenbrenner were united in marriage in Trinity Lutheran Church of Chillicothe.

The double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Harry Baker before an altar decorated with white gladioli and snapdragons and seven branched candelabras.

The former Miss Burlile is the daughter of Mr. Charles Burlile of Chillicothe and the late Mrs. Burlile and Mr. Sensenbrenner is the son of Mrs. Alice Sensenbrenner of Circleville.

The bride, given in marriage by her brother, Mr. William Burlile, wore a gown of Chantilly lace and nylon tulle over satin and net. The lace basque bodice was edged in nylon tulle and the long lace sleeves came to points over her hands. The bouffant skirt of tulle over satin featured appliques of lace, which extended in a chapel train. Her finger tip veil of French illusion was held in place with a crown of seed pearls. She carried a cascade of white roses centered with a white orchid and her only jewelry was a single strand of pearls.

Mrs. Robert Smith, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Carol Aced and Miss Jeanne McHugh.

They wore identical gowns of waltz-length lace and nylon tulle in shades of pink, yellow and blue with full lace skirts worn over crinolines. They wore matching headbands with short veils and matching lace mitts and carried colonial bouquets of rose buds and daisies.

Serving as best man for his brother was Mr. William Sensenbrenner. Ushers included: Mr. James E. Sensenbrenner, brother of the groom, Mr. Warden Rawlins, Mr. Robert Smith and Mr. John Penn.

The prenuptial music was presented by the groom's sister, Miss Nancy Sensenbrenner, who sang, "Because," "I Love You Truly," "If I Could Tell You" and "The Lord's Prayer." She was accompanied at the organ by Mrs. John Kane.

A reception was held in the social rooms of the church with Mrs. Richard Strawsbaugh, Mrs. Perry Wallingford and Mrs. William Burlile. The four-tiered wedding cake, topped with miniature bride and groom, centered the table and was flanked on each side by pink candles.

For the event Miss Martha Burlile, the bride's sister, wore a pink silk sheath dress with white accessories and pink roses corsage. Mrs. Sensenbrenner wore a mauve lace dress with matching accessories and an orchid corsage.

For the couple's trip to Washington, D. C. the new Mrs. Sensenbrenner wore a beige linen sheath dress with white accessories and the orchid from her bridal bouquet.

The bride is a graduate of Chillicothe High School and is employed in the classified advertising department of the Chillicothe Gazette.

Mrs. Sensenbrenner was graduated from Circleville High School and is a member of Company I local National Guard unit. He is presently employed by the Cussins and Fearn Company.

Where Ya Parkin'?

You can start a hot hassle in a lot of places around town these days with just one plain question: "Is it true that a good many people park every day on Watt St. and then ride the bus to Columbus or Chillicothe?"

Not so long ago in one of city council's gatherings, it was said that a good many motorists make it a daily habit, thus holding a parking space free for most of the working day. But the denials are now coming in fast, and sizzling — especially in view of the current arguments over the proposed four-hour parking meters.

At least one man, in position to watch them come and go, says he will put up a substantial wager that not more than two or three people on the average day park on Watt and then use the bus. Watt St. residents said more or less the same thing in council's latest huddle.

Out of the whole parking debate, however, has come the habit of watching strangers when they park their cars and stroll off in the downtown section. A lot of the main wrangle is centered on how many park to shop, and how many others park just to get rid of their cars for awhile.

"I stopped down on your Watt St. the other day," one out-of-town driver remarked, "and everybody in town seemed to be watching me!"

P.S. He only paused for a few minutes. Wanted directions to Dayton.

Video Stuff

Some of our best friends insist on turning the dial, but we claim that Walt Phillips is good for some real laughs almost every time he is on. He's no Phil Silvers, but he's lots funnier than plenty of others who try to be.

Our nomination for an antenna over the head: The guy who turns on the commercial or station plugs just when the inning ends and a wild argument breaks out over a close play at second.

Person to Person

To D.S.: The reason we didn't return your wave the other day downtown was because the suspenders snap open when they're bumped by bundles under the arm, and we needed the other arm to hold our pants up.

New Youth Fitness Council To Be Named By President

ANNAPOLIS, Md. — An important first step has been taken by American leaders who met here to consider ways of bettering the physical fitness of American youth in an age of automobiles and escalators.

A prominent group of youth leaders left a two-day conference on the subject here with assurance from President Eisenhower that he will follow their recommendation and establish a "President's Council on Youth Fitness."

It would be composed of Cabinet members concerned with the problem and will coordinate activities of 35 federal agencies.

Eisenhower also said he would name a citizens' advisory committee to arouse in the American people a "new awareness of the importance of physical and recreational activity."

The President's concern over failure of American youths to pass

Soviet, America Plan Exchange Of Magazines

WASHINGTON — A Russian picture magazine, resembling Life in makeup and called "USSR," will appear on America's newsstands in a couple of weeks.

Its cover will be a four-color photograph of President Eisenhower shaking hands with Soviet Premier Bulganin at the Geneva summit conference last summer.

Its content, according to the Soviet Embassy, will be a nonpolitical exposition of life in the Soviet Union — 64 pages of it in words and in pictures, both color and black-and-white. It will sell for around 15 to 20 cents a copy.

At the time USSR hits American newsstands, a virtually identical U. S. magazine called "Amerika" will be going on sale inside the Soviet Union. It, too, will run to 64 pages and will lean to pictures, both color and black-and-white.

town traffic lights are hard to see, especially when you happen to be looking toward a low-on-horizon sun. The city, however, claims it has tried everything reasonable to correct the trouble.

Fast Talk

In the Great American Home: "I want you to know that, while you were away, I swatted a fly in the dining room, and he was so big I had to hit him three times." "Don't bother me with small things. The time to start worrying is when he takes the swatter away from you and swings back."

PICTURE TALKS

by Mickey Sorts and Norman Kutler
Rexall Camera Dept.

It's vacation time again — the two, three, or four weeks you've been looking forward to all year. Maybe you're planning only a few day-long outings with the family. Maybe you're driving across country. Maybe you're taking a plane to Europe. Whatever your plans, include your camera in.

These are precious days which you'll want to remember. Naturally, they'll be most colorfully recorded in color slides, most vividly in color stereo. But there will also be mementos you'll treasure in black-and-white snapshots.

Just a few tips: Keep your camera loaded with film at all times; keep a supply of flashbulbs on hand for those dim-light or after-dark pictures which add so much to the story. If you're traveling by car, don't store your camera on the back shelf or in the glove compartment. Excessive heat can seriously damage film. Protect it from the dust, sand, and the salt spray at the seashore. But DO keep it close at hand. Make a complete picture record of your vacation, and your vacation need never end. Whenever fancy strikes, you can whip out your album projector and there is your vacation story, ready to be relived just as it happened.

Northern Ohio Strawberries Few

CLEVELAND — Marketing of home-grown strawberries is at its peak in northern Ohio this week, but it's not much of a peak.

The wholesale price here ranged from 35 to 40 cents a quart for good quality, with a top of 50 cents for especially fine berries.

Cool, wet weather made the season peak arrive about 10 days behind schedule and is to blame for the disappointing crop of strawberries, normally a multimillion-dollar business for northern Ohio.

Sokolosky's These Days

This ethnic business marks the new efficiency in politics, the National Committee having accepted all the new devices of intellectual corruption and brain-washing, as, for instance, telling a Negro that he is a discontented person long before he has discovered it for himself and asking him to vote not as an American but as a discontented person.

Similarly, the various experts and consultants on Jewish problems try to make Jewish citizens believe that they are not Americans or that other Americans believe that they are not

Americans so that they must hook up with politicians through ethnic divisions and get some special benefits or special protections which are not acceptable to decent folk of any ethnic division. Most Jews dislike the attitude.

And the same holds true for the 50 or more ethnic divisions that compose the American race of man, a race that has been in the making for three centuries by assimilation, intermarriage and liberty. It would be sound to have a slogan such as "An American is an American."

Jack Harshman Wins 1-Hitter For Chisox

Ex-First Baseman Sees Own Mates Limited To Single By Orioles

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

In 1953, Jack Harshman gave his wife a catcher's mitt for Christmas. He wanted to practice all he could before making his bid as a major league pitcher the next spring, and after seven futile years as a first baseman, they both figured he had a lot of catching up to do.

Thursday, he caught up with the record book.

Only twice since 1900 had major league pitchers battled each other with one-hitter in one game. Thursday, the third such game went into the books—and Harshman won it 1-0 for the Chicago White Sox against Baltimore's Connie Johnson and George Zuvérink.

The victory left the second place Sox five games behind the American League leading New York Yankees, who open a four-game series in Chicago's Comiskey Park tonight after an open date Thursday. In Thursday's other games, Cleveland beat Boston and Tom Brewer's jinx 5-0 behind Early Wynn's four-hitter, and Kansas City slammed Washington back into the cellar 15-6.

In the National, Milwaukee's Braves won their sixth straight under new Manager Fred Haney and retained first place with a 7-2 job on Pittsburgh's slumping Pirates. Brooklyn held on to second in the only other game played, beating St. Louis 9-8 as Roy Campanella hit a pair of three-run homers, his second tying it in a winning four-run ninth inning rally with two out.

Rain postponed Chicago at New York in the only other game scheduled.

Harshman, a three-time loser as a first baseman with the New York Giants, has won only four of eight decisions with the White Sox this season. But three have been beauties. He beat Cleveland and Herb Score 1-0 in a double two-hitter in his first start April 19, and he beat Washington 7-0 on four hits June 16. He gave seven hits in the other victory, edging Baltimore 3-2.

The only hit the 28-year-old southpaw allowed Thursday was a seventh-inning double by Gus Triandos. But Harshman, who has a string of 20 scoreless innings going, nailed him at third after fielding Hal Smith's attempted sacrifice.

In all, Harshman—who was 14-8 and fanned 16 in one game in his 1954 debut with the White Sox, and 11-7 last season—faced 32 men, walking four and striking out four.

The only White Sox hit off Johnson, who went to Baltimore from Chicago last month, was a first-inning double by Nellie Fox. But it followed a leadoff walk to Jim Rivera, who then stole second. Johnson, who fanned seven, was

Stan Musial Gives Hint Of Quitting Game

NEW YORK (AP)—A combination of circumstances has discouraged Stan Musial to such an extent that he seriously is thinking of quitting baseball at the end of the season.

Although the St. Louis Cardinals' all-time great would not comment it has been learned from present and former teammates that the National League's greatest player of his generation is depressed over recent events ranging from the trading of his closest friend Red Schoendienst to his shift from the outfield to first base.

Another major hurt, it has been learned, stemmed from reports prior to the June 15 trading deadline of a player transaction between the Cardinals and Philadelphia involving Musial and Robin Roberts, the Phillies' ace.

This has been denied by Frank Lane, Cardinals' dynamic general manager. Lane, who has a reputation for truthfulness and integrity, undoubtedly made no serious effort to peddle St. Louis' No. 1 citizen but those rumors have made Musial feel insecure for the first time in his long tenure with the Cardinals.

One who knows this modest star well said when Stan first read the report in a St. Louis paper of the possibility of his being traded, Musial became noticeably upset. It was not until the trading deadline had passed that he became his usual relaxed self.

lifted for a pinch-hitter in the eighth.

It was the first double one-hitter since Bobby Cain and the St. Louis Browns—Baltimore's predecessors in the AL—beat Bob Feller and Cleveland 1-0 April 23, 1952. The winning run was scored in the first inning of that one, too, with Marty Marion, now White Sox field boss, driving it in.

Akron Executive Leading Seniors

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—J. B. Bixler, an Akron rubber executive, paced the field into the final day of the Western Senior Golf Tournament today, despite six opening-round bogies.

The 55-year-old Bixler, a youngster in the tournament for golfers 52 and over, erased four of his over-par holes with birds on a pair of six-foot putts and ducos on two short holes for a 72.

Former Western senior winner J. Clark Espie of Indianapolis was one stroke behind Bixler.

Famed Trotter Stenographer Retired; To Be Brood Mare

COLUMBUS—The racing career of one of America's gamest and fastest trotting mares came to an end when owner Max Hempt of Mechanicsburg, Pa., announced after the racing of the American Trotting Championship that he was retiring Stenographer and would breed her immediately to the great stallion Hoot Mon.

"I said a long time ago," Hempt reported, "that when it became obvious that she wasn't herself on the race track I would immediately remove her from competition. She was too fine and honest a mare to cheapen by continuing to race her when she wasn't herself."

Stenographer finished back in the pack in the Trotting Championship last week and it was reported afterward that she was suffering from a sore heel, an ailment that has been giving her trouble, off and on, for a couple of months.

Several weeks ago Hempt and trainer Del Miller were about to quit on the daughter of Bill Galton but she surprised them by whipping a field of free-for-allers at Rosecroft Raceway in Maryland. It appeared then the lameness had been overcome. It proved a false conclusion, however, and the decision to retire her was reached.

Stenographer was at her peak as a 3-year-old in 1954 when she

In second place, with 71, is veteran Patty Berg of St. Andrews, Ill., who would rather win this tournament above all others. The LPGA crown is the only one that has escaped the red-haired shot-maker.

The 72-hole medal play duel will continue through Sunday.

Tribe Hopes To Gain In Senator Test

CLEVELAND (AP)—While the New York Yankees are battling second place Chicago, the Cleveland Indians hope to gain some ground in a four-game series with Washington starting tonight.

The Indians bounced back from a six-game losing streak by sweeping a three game series from Boston, winning the final game 5-0 yesterday on Early Wynn's four hitter.

Mike Garcia, who shut the Nats out on seven hits last June 4, is scheduled to pitch tonight. He will face Chuck Stobbs, making his first appearance of the season against Cleveland.

Stobbs lost his only start against the Indians last season, lost two games in relief, and won one in relief.

The Indians ended a flax yesterday, beating young Tom Brewer, Boston righthander who had won seven in a row from the Tribe. Brewer left for a hitter in the fifth inning, after giving up five runs.

The Indians scored four in the third on singles by Bob Avila, Al Smith, Vic Wertz and Chico Carasquel, a walk and a wild pitch.

Gene Woodling homered in the fourth inning, his second in as many days.

There was only one solid hit off Wynn, a single to center by Jackie Jensen. Jim Piersall beat out two bunts, and Ted Williams pushed a single to left against the shift, with shortstop Carrasquel playing on the first base side of second.

Indian Manager Al Lopez was pleased with the sweep of the Boston series.

Big Torque of the Best Sellers

It would stand to reason that automobiles selling in the same league, so to speak, would be pretty close in their engineering specifications.

Like in "torque multiplication"—the twisting force a transmission delivers to the drive shaft. (The greater the torque multiplication, the greater the performance).

But what do you find?

AIRCONDITIONING

at a COOL NEW LOW PRICE

It cools, filters, dehumidifies.

Get 4-Season Comfort in your new Buick with genuine

FRIGIDAIRE CONDITIONING

And you find that this high-torque performance is one reason for Buick's best-seller standing. For Buick is now more strongly positioned in the Top 3 of the nation's biggest-selling automobiles.

That's news—and there's plenty more where that came from. For the '56 Buick is jam-packed with new engineering and styling advances to make it the best Buick yet, by far.

That new Dynaflo, for example, brings you the world's only switch-pitch performance in cars—plus a new part-throttle getaway response that's swifter, surer, and a gas-saver to boot.

The new V8 engine is 322-cubic-inches

big, and packed with the highest horsepower, the highest compressions in all Buick annals.

There's a joyous new ride, too—a new steering magic—a new "sense of direction" in your every handling maneuver.

Thing to do is come see for yourself. That way you can also look at the prices that have helped move Buick to a new sales success—outselling all other cars in America except two of the well-known smaller ones.

Will you do that, this week?

550 Scheduled To Compete In AAU Track Carnival

BAKERSFIELD, Calif. (AP)—The National AAU Track and Field championships get underway on a two-night run tonight with an unwieldy cast of around 550 competing for more than just AAU medals.

At stake for such tried and tested athletes as the Rev. Bob Richards, Mal Whitfield and Harrison Dillard is the final chance to try out for the 1956 U. S. Olympic team in next week's big show in Los Angeles.

Other heroes of the sport, Parry O'Brien of shot put renown; sensational Bobby Morrow of the sprints; half-miler Arnie Sowell and quarter-milers J. W. Mashburn, Lou Jones and Jim Lea, have already qualified for the Olympic team tryout finals.

They reached this summit either in the national collegiate or the armed forces interservice meets last week.

But Richards and Co., plus marathon man Horace Ashenfelter, javelin stars Bud Held and Cy Young, and discus artist Fortune Gordien must do it here to get to Los Angeles, the very last step in the formation of the U.S. team which will go to Australia this fall.

Nine finals are on tonight's schedule in Bakersfield College's Memorial Stadium.

If what the local people say is true, world records may totter or fall, particularly in the sprint and middle distance running events.

The track is a composition of clay and crushed brick, the latter the salvage of an untimely event here four years ago — an earthquake.

In any event, Abilene (Tex.) Christian's young Mr. Morrow will find out how fast it is in the 100 prelims and finals tonight.

So will such runners as Lea and Jones in the 400 meters, Jack

Campy's 2 Homers Cheers Bum Star

BROOKLYN (AP)—Roy Campanella is troubled no more.

The genial Brooklyn catcher snapped out of the worst batting slump of his career last night when he hit two home runs, good for six runs, in a 9-8 victory over St. Louis.

"Thank God, I'm out of that," he said as teammates thumped his broad back in the Dodger dressing room. His second homer, a three-run blast off 40-year-old Murry Dickson, tied the score in the ninth.

Davis and Lee Calhoun in the high hurdles, and Eddie Davis, the Texas freshman, and Glen Davis in the 400 meter hurdles.

How the track suits the long range wanderers will be discovered in the 10,000 meter grind by Joe Tyler of the U.S. Navy and ex-Penn Dick Hart, along with no less than 54 others, if all start as entered.

The 10,000 meter run is a final for the Olympic team. The first three here go to Melbourne.

Finals are also set in the shot, high jump, broad jump and hammer throw.

Tebbetts singled out Ted Kluszewski and Gus Bell, who has gone one for 18 since his three-run homer against the Giants Sunday.

"We need more consistent hitting from Wally, Klu and Gus if we're going to pick up again," Tebbetts said.

Brooks Lawrence will pitch tonight for the Redlegs, seeking his ninth straight win in an undefeated season. He will be opposed by Sal Maglie.

Besides the Brooklyn Dodgers, whom they meet in a night game tonight, the third-place Redlegs will face the Pittsburgh Pirates, the St. Louis Cardinals and the Milwaukee Braves in 12 days.

The prospect has Birdie Tebbetts thinking out loud about his team's hitting.

"I don't think we're a flash in the pan," said Tebbetts. "We're a solid ball club."

But he admitted the Redlegs have been in a "low period" for 10 days. "This is especially true of our hitting," he said.

Love Is Rated Big Factor In Dog's Long Life

Survey Made Among Pets 17 Or Older

Researchers Claim That Age Equals Human Century Mark

Pickaway County dog owners who hope their pets live to a low old age have been given an authoritative tip by one of the nation's best known dog organizations.

The Gaines Dog Research Center of New York says the important thing is to develop a "sense of security" in your pet. The center said it based the theory on a survey taken among the owners of "canine centenarians."

Assuming that 17 years of age in a dog is the equivalent of 100 in a human being, the center mailed questionnaires to 500 persons who had previously indicated that they owned dogs of that age or older.

In the tabulation of answers received it was revealed that owners most often attributed their dogs' advanced age to affection and understanding and a close relationship with the family.

GOOD nutrition was considered next in importance, the dog having received proper foods, with no overfeeding, and plenty of fresh water to drink. Health care, early recognition of ailments and prompt veterinary treatment rated third in importance.

However, the average "canine centenarian" has never been hospitalized, except for spaying, unless he became careless about automobiles or dog fights.

Most of the dogs led sheltered lives, adds the center, 81.2 percent being described as house dogs. In the majority of cases there have been children in the family.

Nearly all of the dogs have lived closely with the family, two out of three customarily sleeping in the family's house. Over half of the dogs have accompanied their owners on travels.

Another contributing factor was the "way of life" in that the dogs always had warm, dry shelter, and regular exercise, although only 18.2 percent of the owners would call it vigorous.

Of all the dogs in the survey, nearly 60 percent are of mixed breeding, 38.1 percent being purebred. Five out of eight are male. Most of the dogs are small size and more have short hair than long hair.

THE pure-breeds are mostly Fox Terriers, Cocker Spaniels, Dachshunds, Pekingese and Pomeranians. Many of the "canine centenarians" have performed some kind of duty during their lifetime, such as being home guardians, hunting dogs, farm dogs and "rodent killers." Over two-thirds are still fairly active.

Of those which are not, activities ceased after they reached the age of 16. The average age of the canine centenarian is 18. The oldest dog in the survey was 26 years old.

Good or fair eyesight was reported in 70.5 percent; nearly 44 percent have good or fair hearing; and 68.3 percent good or fair teeth, with 64 percent never having had any teeth extracted. In most cases the coats of the "canine centenarians" are still sleek and luxurious.

Modern Wives Overwork Husbands Says Out-Spoken Woman, Near 80

LEVITTOWN, Pa. — An outspoken woman with the iron of self-reliance in her blood says that many a modern American husband dies too soon because his wife saddles him with endless household tasks.

"Young wives are killing their husbands by expecting them to do too much work when they get home from their jobs," declared Mrs. Agnes Ferguson Murdoch who is "going on 80."

"And it's all done in the name of cooperation!"

"All this talk you hear these days about cooperation. Which really means things like the husband taking over the children as soon as he walks in the door, pitching in on a lot of housework, and all the rest of it. Oh, it's all so familiar, as the men know."

Mrs. Murdoch reared six children of her own and had a big hand in the upbringing of three stepchildren besides. For most of the 44 years of her married life she took care of a 15-room house with little outside help.

What's more, she thrived on it. Not many would guess that she's crowding 80, nor question her proud boast of "grand" health.

Her husband Alexander has done all right too. He's a sunny, pink-cheeked, eye-twinkling 91.

On the subject of what she calls men's rights, Mrs. Murdoch said:

"I think a husband deserves a chance to relax when he gets home after working all day. And I believe wives are pushing their husbands into heart attacks by demanding too much of them."

As Mrs. Murdoch sees it, too many modern women fall victim to self-pity, and self-pity leads to general flabbiness of mind and spirit.

"I managed fine," she said, "even if we didn't have the benefit of all these automatic appliances and other labor-saving gadgets, to say nothing of synthetic fabrics and goods you don't even have to iron."

"We mothers didn't have kaffe klatches as I believe the daily habit now is called. We didn't have time. But I did take about an hour each day to rest and to be alone just to think."

Presbyterians Delete UMT Policy Plank

WOOSTER, Ohio — The Ohio Presbyterian Synod voted 55-24 Thursday to strike out of its social education policy this sentence:

"We express opposition to legislation calling for a program of universal military training."

The amendment eliminating the sentence was offered by a Cincinnati elder, Porter P. Lowry, who is a retired Army officer. He contended that universal military training has been defeated and is a dead issue.

Lowry also offered an amendment to strike out a statement calling attention to the fact that in the national budget military items are far higher than appropriation for technical assistance and economic aid. This amendment was defeated.

Another section of the report commended the church's General Assembly and those churches which "have officially adopted a policy eliminating the barrier of racial segregation and discrimination."

Rev. Duffy said several predominantly Negro churches in Ohio have accepted white members, but he added that some Negroes prefer separation.

OSU Trustees Set To Pick New Prexy At Monday Parley

COLUMBUS, Ohio — Board Chairman Forest C. Ketter of the Ohio State University Board of trustees says the board will take "definite action" at a special meeting Monday to select a successor to retiring OSU President Howard L. Bevis.

The special meeting was called at the conclusion of the regular meeting June 11 to take up what one board member called "unfinished business."

More than 100 names have been considered by a screening committee which made its final recommendations to the board more than a week ago. Because the trustees wished to avoid embarrassing the candidates, their names were kept secret.

Bevis, the university's seventh president, plans to retire June 30 at the age of 70.

New Methodist Seminary Eyed

LAKEVILLE, Pa. — A drive to raise $4 million for a Methodist seminary in Ohio at a location still to be decided is likely to start before the year is out.

Two million dollars would be for buildings, and two million for endowment of the seminary which the Methodists hope to get into operation in 1961.

A provisional organization made up of representatives from Ohio and five other areas will be constituted in Columbus June 28 at a meeting of the Ohio Area cabinet. This organization will handle the fund-raising program.

Boy's Long Journey Ended Abruptly

MARIETTA — Six-year-old Andrew Grayson has lots of friends. Trouble is, they're all back in Zanesville.

Andrew moved to Marietta only recently. Tuesday, he and his little bicycle started the 63-mile trek "home."

Ten miles and six hours later, a police patrol car found the weary little boy near Lowell and hauled him back to Marietta.

Marlon Brando Gives Views On U.S. Relations In Asia

HOLLYWOOD — "I found so much to stimulate me that I couldn't begin to tell about it in one conversation."

This was a serious, thoughtful Marlon Brando talking about his recent journey to the Orient. He went there (1) to do research for a film about the United Nations he plans to produce; and (2) to film location scenes of "Teahouse of the August Moon." Here are some of his observations:

"Americans don't even begin to understand the people of Asia. The average American couldn't tell you even three of the five main bodies of land that comprise Indonesia, what the capital is, what the natives' attitude toward the Dutch is..."

"American prestige is dwindling among the free countries of Asia while the great masses of China and Russia are waiting to gobble them up. Our understanding of Asians will never improve until we get out of the habit of thinking of the people as short, spindly-legged, bucktoothed little people with strange customs..."

Police And Fire Agencies Halve

FREMONT — Expecting a deficit because a city income tax has been held up, Mayor John M. Collins yesterday ordered the police department cut from 22 to 11 men, the same cut in the fire department, and a reduction from five to three in the parks department.

He said $6,000 a month would be saved. A petition was filed Wednesday calling for a referendum in the November election on an income tax of one-half of one percent.

37th Division Increase Asked

WASHINGTON — Maj. Gen. Leo M. Kreber, commander of Ohio's 37th Division, National Guard, wants to raise the division's strength by 2,100 men next year and has the backing of Ohio's Sen. John W. Bricker.

Those facts were released by a Senate committee recommending 1957 defense spending.

The general is quoted in the testimony as expressing "grave concern" over the 407,000-man ceiling on nationwide Guard manpower for fiscal 1957.

He said the Ohio Guard plans five battalions of anti-aircraft artillery for "on-site protection of the Cleveland-Youngstown area."
